Consider Northeast Site for Elementary, Junior High School

The board of education of Arlington Heights Elementary School District No. 25 issued a report this week to patrons of the district that outlines the problems caused by increasing enrollment and the need for the erection of a new school plant somewhere in the northeast area in the near future. This school may also include a junior high school.

The report says that the financing of the project will not be easy. It outlines the situation as follows:

"This would require a referendum and a small bond issue . . . our bonding power is adequate for this, although we must wait for bonds to be retired and the total assessed valuation to increase before attempting a major building program.

"Unprecendented increases in enrollment and rising costs make it difficult to finance an adequate program. The lag in receiving tax receipts after a home is occupied is often as long as two years. The assessed valuation per child in this district has fallen from $25,090 in 1947-48 to $24,500 in 1951-52.

"It now looks as if we shall need to increase our educational tax rate from $1 to the legal limit of $1.125. This will require a referendum . . . many suburban districts have already voted this maximum.

"Stanton and Rockwell, in their report to the Arlington Heights Plan Commission in the summer of 1952, estimated that the elementary school population of district 25 would be 1892 in 1960. However, the enrollment now (January, 1953) is 1814 . . . Consequently present facilities (including current building program) will be inadequate after 1953-54."

The current building program includes two schools, which are expected to be completed by next September. It will provide six school rooms in the Arlington Ridge building, which will relieve overcrowded conditions in the North school and seven rooms in the new South side school, which will allow five rooms to be vacated in the present south school for junior high school use.

Within seven years the school enrollment has increased from 605 in 1946 to 1814 in 1953. Extremely heavy lower grade enrollment and their gradual entrance in junior high school has necessitated the current building program.

The present enrollment of 1814 are divided into 61 classes. They are divided as follows:

Grade	Pupils	Classes
Kindergarten	351	12
First grade	252	9
Second grade	208	7
Third grade	212	7
Fourth grade	189	7
Fifth grade	194	7
Sixth grade	155	4
Seventh grade	151	4
Eighth grade	102	4

Six Persons Injured In Week End Accidents

The State highway police were called to the scene of two accidents this past week end, in which a total of six persons suffered injuries, and three cars became total wrecks.

The first occurred Saturday night on S. State rd., one half mile north of Rt. 58, when an auto driven by Ann Pytlik, Arlington Heights, went into a skid and hit a tree. Mrs. Pytlik and her two daughters, Helga, 12, and Marian, 18, were all injured and taken to St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, for treatment.

Mrs. Pytlik suffered a fractured right leg, cuts about the head, and loss of most of her front teeth, while Marian was severely cut about the face and sustained an injured ankle. Helga escaped with lacerations about the forehead and was able to leave the hospital after treatment.

Sunday morning a two car collision occurred on Rt. 12 (Rand rd.) one mile northwest of Rt. 83. The autos were driven by Henry L. Hoppert, Rt. 5, McHenry county, and Edward J. Minarik, Berwyn.

Two passengers in the Minarik auto, Mildred Gast and Robert Carl Gast, both of Cicero, were injured. Also injured was Erny T. Hoppert, who was riding with Henry Hoppert.

Arlington Fender and Body Shop cleared the wreckage at both accidents.

Peter Horasanian, 56, of 1950 Hood ave., Chicago, escaped injury Saturday when the car he was driving skidded out of control on Northwest highway and crashed into the steps of the Town Pump Tavern west of Ridge ave., Arlington Heights. Property damage was sustained by the automobile, a 1952 Studebaker sedan, and the front porch of the building.

Plan To Take New Census In Arlington

Arlington Heights has grown so rapidly since the 1950 census the village board decided Tuesday night to ask the government to take a special census of the town.

THIS ACTION was prompted by the fact that with the increased population more motor fuel tax money should be forthcoming. The only legal way to get this additional money is to have an official census taken. The board will take the necessary steps to do this.

As the village grows it is necessary to increase the staff that is needed to operate it. The latest department in need of extra help is the police force. The police commission is being notified a vacancy for a second police sergeant has been created and they will be asked to hold examinations to fill that office. With the appointment of the sergeant another patrolman will be needed and the police commission will be asked to receive applications for the position.

With the appointment of a new sergeant there will be an officer on duty during each of the eight hour shifts, who will be in charge of the patrolmen.

AN EFFORT will be made to reach some decision on the paving of Olive ave., from State to Rand rd., or at least from State rd. to the village limits. Half of the road belongs to the township and half to the village. Joseph Horowitz, developer of the Arlington Greens subdivision in that area, asked the board to call a special meeting with the township commissioner and a committee from the village to see if some agreement couldn't be reached to put the street in a useable condition. A tentative meeting is set for Tuesday night.

Grigsby Allison company was granted permission to renew its lease of the property at 302 N. Evergreen, for another two years. The board will suggest the company look for a more suitable location, properly zoned, to use when the new lease expires.

DOES ABSENCE MAKE THE HEART GROW FONDER?

Or does the old adage "Out of sight, out of mind" hold true today, instead? Read what Leland Ellis Truxell has to say about this ever present problem with so many GIs off in Korea. It's in Section Four this week.

Greater Chicago Plan Gets Hearing Before Suburban Group

The Tri-County Home Rule association will hear discussions of the Greater Chicago authority plan—which proposed the financing of public improvements by the sale of revenue bonds under a semi-independent city organization—at 8 p. m. Jan. 22 in the Oak Park municipal building.

Proposed by the Chicago Plan commission, the plan has been incorporated into a legislative act, to be presented to the state legislature if approved by the city council. The act's provisions will be explained at the Oak Park meeting by Ashley Guthrie, attorney and member of the commission's legislative advisory committee. Commission Chairman William M. Spencer is expected to attend.

The session was announced by G. D. Wilson, head of the Tri-County group and president of Skokie.

Local governments of Cook and four adjacent counties would be affected by the plan. City and the counties representatives would direct the authority's activities. Through the sale of bonds, the authority would construct, buy or lease airports, railroad terminals, toll roads, port facilities, sewage and water works, and other public projects.

Directors of Cook county farm bureau passed a resolution at its meeting last Monday registering its disapproval of the Greater Chicago plan. Representatives of the Illinois Agricultural Association were present. That organization will be asked to "carry the ball" when the legislative action is started.

The interest of DuPage county is practically the same as Cook and the Oak Park meeting will probably include representatives of all villages of that county.

The Editor's column

Spring is not many months distant, and it is not too early to think about growing things. This week the editor is going to forget about parking lots, street widening, etc., to pass on to Arlington Heights readers a suggestion that he recently received. While it was written by an Arlington Heights business man for Arlington Heights, other towns with unsightly "front walks" might follow suit. Here is the suggestion:

The city beautiful, an auspicious sounding name is difficult to apply to a village devoid of the natural phenomena of hill and dale, fresh water lakes and streams, forests, etc.

Good public housekeeping—landscaped areas, neat buildings, both public and private, clean streets and well kept parkways with carefully groomed trees, are about the only alteration in the absence of natural features that can earn the plaudit of city beautiful for this prairie village.

Casual inspection of the village of Arlington Heights reveals many little things that can easily be done to improve appearances generally and earn a reputation for the community as a place of beauty and of joyful residence in spite of natural handicaps.

A case in point: The approaches to and the thoroughfare through the village on the Northwest highway U. S. route 14, are flanked on one side by a railroad embankment that challenges the imagination for improvement without too much expense in cash and effort, and with a universal appeal—a general cleanup, planned plantings of these slopes with a succession of blooming plants and shrubs, would enhance the thought that here is a desirable spot where life can be beautiful because people are concerned about their environment.

A simple planting of multicolored Hollyhocks that thrive almost anywhere as readily as do thistles and burdock, would gain wide recognition and add by many degrees the pleasure of being in Arlington Heights.

As a practical proposition cleanup campaigns pay satisfying dividends in increased property values and pride in ownership. Thoughtful planning now, in the winter season, will find us prepared for springtime action.

The Chamber of Commerce, Lions, Kiwanis, Garden clubs, neighborhood groups, real estate and building interests, can, if they will, furnish inspiring leadership in bringing many desirable improvements into reality.

The simple satisfaction of a plan, well executed, adds stature to fostering organizations. Who will buy, or what can you offer for community betterment?

This editor will attend a meeting at Oak Park Thursday evening when proponents of the Greater Chicago plan will have the opportunity to tell their side of the "grab" story. He will listen with an open mind, but he expects to be of the same opinion still when he leaves that meeting. (See news story on this page).

As this issue goes to press, word comes that Cook County Zoning board has approved the rezoning for the Kimball Hill project. While it must await action by the county board, business interests should start planning for the time when 1500 more families will be potential customers.

"Procrastination" has become a part of the civic life of Arlington Heights entirely too long.

The Stanton & Rockwell report has already become partly obsolete, particularly as far as the school growth is concerned. Unless some part of it is soon tried out, it may become just a $5,000 dream of what might have been.

Arlington Heights is growing faster than even Messrs. Stanton and Rockwell imagined.

Arlington Heights business district is on trial. The Lattof project is a start in the right direction, but it cannot be expected to solve the shopping-parking problem for the entire town.

Has Arlington again been caught napping? There has been a lot of talk in these parts about the need for a hospital. Dr. Paul Carstens is all for it. He told us last week that a good hospital would cost $3,000,000 and that it could become a reality if the people of Wheeling and adjoining townships were sufficiently interested to raise $1,500,000.

Last week announcement was made of the formation of the Niles Township Community Hospital association to erect a $2,000,000 hospital to serve Niles, Glenview, Northbrook, Northfield, Skokie, Morton Grove, Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect.

This paper has been asked to boost the Niles hospital plan. Will somebody please tell us whether or not Arlington Heights people are interested in a hospital of their own?

Des Plaines and Park Ridge are tied up with the Resurrection hospital at Canfield road. The Niles hospital group are attempting to annex Arlington. Shall we let them?

We hear the political pot is beginning to boil in Arlington Heights. Rumors most persistent with no official confirmation are that Mr. Nicholas M. Lattof will be a candidate for Village President on a ticket with Forrest F. Davis, for village clerk; and Ralph L. Hoffie, William A. Gerbosi and Charles C. Barrett for trustees.

The first date for filing is January 26 and the final time is March 2. Neither Lattof or Davis would confirm the ticket, but both indicated that there would be an announcement next week. Hoffie has served as trustee for the past six years and William A. Gerbosi was recently appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former village trustee Harry Robinson.

Approval Given Charter Savings And Loan Assn.

Word was received in Arlington Heights this week that the U. S. Treasury department had approved the charter for Arlington Heights First Federal Savings and Loan Association. The government checks carefully the need of the community and the qualifications of the proposed officers.

The $100,000 capital was over subscribed. There is still a lot of preliminary work to be done before the association will be ready to open for business in the former telephone office on State road.

Uncle Sam Takes Six More Men From Area

Six more men from this area were inducted into the army January 9. Included were Calvin Charles Gaare, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gaare, Palatine and Arthur H. Cameron Jr., son of the senior Camerons, Wheeling.

Others from this area were Paul L. Campbell, John W. Dobson, Juan Elias Benavides and Jack Louis Sullivan. All were inducted through local board 101, Des Plaines.

Deny Rezoning For Shopping Center

Board Refuses To Discuss It Further With Proponents

A resolution, submitted by Trustee Edward Carlisle, denying the rezoning of the Pfluger property on S. State rd. to permit the erection of a shopping center, was passed by the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night. Five members voted in favor of the resolution and one, Trustee David Zimmerman, against.

A last minute appeal in behalf of the proponents by Frank Carr, associate of John Nevin and Co., municipal bond house, was to no avail. He presented a brief review of the facts and ask the board to sit down with the proponents and give them an opportunity to iron out the differences that seem to be preventing the erection of the center.

ATTORNEY George Hoban, representing the opponents, said inasmuch as the proponents had an opportunity to further state their case he felt the opponents should be afforded the same right. He told the board that since the zoning board of appeals, who had spent many hours listening to the testimony of both sides, and many more hours discussing the pros and cons, had recommended the petition to rezone the property be denied, the board should concur on its findings.

Action on the petition had been pending since last June.

Prior to the regular meeting of the board a public hearing was held to discuss whether or not to pave three blocks of Oakton st., between Prairie and Douglas avenues, by special assessment. A group of home owners in that area submitted a petition signed by 79 of 82 residents, objecting to the paving because they would receive no direct benefit from the improvement. Joseph Horowitz, developer of the Arlington Greens subdivision located in that area, is willing to pave his half of the street, including curb and gutter. The board would like to see a full street improvement. The matter has been taken under advisement.

M. C. BURKHART, treasurer of the Arlington Heights Memorial Library, appealed to the board for $4,000, which is needed to operate the library for the next four months. Insufficient funds are due to the fact part of the tax money appropriated for the library's operation has not been forthcoming. No more will be available until May.

It cost the library approximately $1,000 a month to operate. If the $4,000 is provided by the village, it will be reimbursed when the new tax money is available. The matter has been referred to the finance committee.

George Tuttle, chairman of the sub-committee on zoning of the plan commission, asked the board for a progress report on what is being done on the zoning phase of the Stanton and Rockwell report. Attorney Hugo J. Thal informed Tuttle no property could be rezoned without a public hearing. Preliminary work must be done before any rezoning can take place. He expects to have some action on the matter within the next few weeks.

An ordinance will be drawn up to vacate the Campbell and Wing st. right-of-ways between the Arlington Seating company and E. W. A. Rowles, as a result of a request made by these two companies.

Zack Malkov At Father-Son Dinner At Arlington

Zack Malkov, whom many wrestling fans have seen on TV, once hurled an opponent into the third row of seats.

Another time, Zack's foe was roughing him so much an irate woman fan whacked the other grappler with her purse and the contents spilled all over the ring.

These are but two reasons why Arlington Heights fans will get a big kick out of listening to Zack Malkov, well-known heavyweight wrestler, next Wednesday night, January 21.

MALKOV WILL be guest speaker that evening when the Friendly Circle of the St. John's Evangelical Reformed church presents its fifth annual father-son banquet at the church.

Tickets are $2, $1 for children under 12. They can be obtained through Mrs. Bessie Linnenkohl, president of the Friendly Circle; Mrs. Robert Koeppen and Mrs. Frederick Lauterburg, co-chairmen of the event, or any member.

No ardent wrestling fan will want to miss hearing Malkov's many experiences in the ring, some funny, and some not so funny.

TOMMY KOUZMANOFF, Herald-American sports writer, a resident of Arlington Heights who got his jounalistic start with Paddock Publications, will be toastmaster.

Other speakers will include the Rev. William Kamphenkel, pastor of the church; George Scharringhausen, president of St. John's Young Adults club, and Stuart Paddock Sr., publisher of Paddock Publications.

Musical entertainment will be furnished by Fred Lauterburg Jr., 10; Bobby Frohme, 7; Bobby Ryan, 16, all proimsing young piano-accordianists, and August Stelling, accomplished pianist.

THE FRIENDLY Circle considers itself fortunate in being able to present Zack Malkov, wrestling's "hero type of a villain," who is built like a little truck — 215 pounds, 5 feet, 7½ inches — and hits opponents like one.

Fans have seen him tangle with equally capable guys like Rudy Kay, Billy Goelz, Benito Gardini and the Mighty Atlas, either on their television screen, or at Marigold Gardens.

Organize New Girl Scout Council For NW Area

The newly organized girl scout council of northwest Cook county will hold its first meeting January 29 at 8 p.m., at the Des Plaines Congregational church, Graceland and Marion sts.

All registered adults are urged to attend. This includes leaders, troop committee people and board members from the entire area, which takes in Skokie, Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights and Palatine.

AFTER TWO years of work the steering committee, composed of two representatives from each of the above mentioned councils or towns, has reached the point where it is ready to combine efforts and organizations and become one large area council. Each of these communities has voted to make this move in the interest of better girl scouting for all. An office has been set up at 38 N. Broadway, Des Plaines.

Mrs. Willard W. Osborn, girl scout executive of the Wilmette council for 10 years, has accepted a transfer and will act as executive director for this entire area. Miss Marion Hodgins, girl scout professional of Des Plaines, has agreed to continue as director of Camp Hickory Hills and to devote her full scouting time to the various phases of work connected with Hickory Hills, under the supervision of the executive. A field director will be hired to assist the executive with many portions of the work, particularly training and camping other than the established camp.

Under the new council local organizations will change and neighborhood troops will be set up under the direction of a neighborhood chairman. These neighborhood chairmen will be the direct contact for the troop leaders and troop committee people. They in turn, will have direct contact with the district chairmen, of which there will be four.

MRS. W. W. OSBORN

ONE CHAIRMAN will be elected for each district, which will be set up as follows: District I—Skokie and surrounding territory, excepting Niles; District II—Park Ridge and surrounding territory, including Niles; District III—Des Plaines and surrounding territory; District IV—Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights and Palatine.

District chairmen, in turn, will be members of the board and will have direct contact with the second vice-president, who will assist them in coordinating their activities. The board will act for all districts and all committees will be organized at the area level. Channeling of information and assistance will be as above mentioned. (B4

BOARD UPHOLDS REZONING OF KIMBALL HILL

Project Awaits Action By Cook County Board Of Commissioners

The Kimball Hill project, calling for the erection of 1500 to 1700 homes between Wilke and Rohlwing rds., south of Arlington race track, has received the approval of Cook County zoning board. The recommendation will be considered by the Cook County board of commissioners at its coming meeting.

Because the village of Arlington Heights has formally protested the project a favorable vote of three-quarters of the members of the board will be required to give the project the green light.

Palatine filed no objections, although its community school district will be responsible for the elementary schooling of the children residing in the project. That school board has accepted the offer of the developer that he would erect without charge a suitable school house.

Arlington Heights opposition was chiefly based upon the claim that the development was contrary to the master plan that had been prepared by the Arlington plan commission, which called for erection of estate homes thereon with lots of 20,000 to 40,000 square feet.

Attorney Paul Brust, representing Kimball Hill and Associates in a brief filed with the zoning board argued that because the master plan had never been officially adopted by the village, "it is no part of this record and therefore should not be considered in passing on the merits of the petitioners' application for reclassification."

The brief further pointed out the uses to which the land could be put if left under its present farming classification. There would be no way to prevent its becoming a collection of chicken farms and its land used for obnoxious purposes, claims Brust.

The attorney, in arguing the benefit to the Arlington Heights community by its orderly development, says in part:

"Rezoning, and its related concomitant community planning, must stem from the concept that communities grow. Growth proceeds from economic and social pressures. Planned growth is desirable, as against sporadic uncontrolled developments. The present zoning classification "F" permits, in addition to the above agricultural uses, random unplanned scattering of houses, with no control of street improvements, with the use of septic tanks.

"The petitioner, on the other hand, has gone to great lengths to plan, with the advice of some of the country's foremost experts in this field, an integral community, containing its own school, recreational, business and residential areas, a carefully planned system of streets—indeed, a self contained, though unincorporated, village. They have employed engineers to assure a public water system, which has been approved, in accordance with law, by the State Water Department.

"They have arranged for a public sewer and drainage system, and have planned for the installation of adequate streets, walks, curbs and gutters—all of which have been approved by the Federal Housing Administration. They have arranged for the financing of the above. They have pre-tested the market for prospective residents of this community, and have applications to purchase with approximately 300 persons who have expressed an eagerness to buy homes in this new community."

High School Music Recital This Sunday

The Arlington Heights high school music department will hold a recital Sunday at 3:30 p. m., in the Little Theatre in the new cafeteria. The general public is invited to attend.

VOCAL AND instrumental soloists will highlight the recital, as well as a baton twirling duet by Charlene Rehfeldt and Marlene Kerschke. Several ensemble numbers will also be presented.

Instrumental soloists include Tom Tirrito, who will play the bass clarinet, accompanied by Bob Harrington on the piano; Jerry Spears, drum solo; David Catherwood, marimba; Alice Olson, piano; Bob Harrington, baritone saxophone, accompanied by Tom Tirrito; Jane Anne Torreyson, piano; Cindy Meineke, violin, accompanied by Sharon Newman, and Ellen Weaver, piano solo.

THE BRASS QUARTET, Chris Kent, Mark Creviston, Norman Laubenheimer and Neil Barr, will also present a number. Margaret Schorr will present a soprano solo.

The sophomore girls' ensemble is made up of Lois Peterson, Louise Nienhold, Ada Kilbury, Charlene Sorensen, Patsy Mores, Nancy Wintergerst and Margo Mates. They will be accompanied by Adrienne Double. The boys' ensemble consists of John Lee, Joe Rezek, Bob Rankine, Ray Feind, Jim Whitelaw, Gilbert Haas, Jim Ahmer, Terry Frakes and Bill Reis. They will be accompanied by Ellen Weaver.

ZONING HEARINGS FRIDAY

Rezoning hearings will be held in Arlington Heights and Palatine village halls this Friday evening. The Arlington hearing will open at 7 p.m. and concerns 1.5 acres at Rand and Palatine rd.

The Palatine hearing will start at 7:30 and will include tracts at Quinten and Palatine rds. and on the old Northwest hwy.

Ask Support Of Mothers' March On Polio

Thursday evening, Jan. 29, at 7 o'clock, Arlington Heights residents will unite in the final drive to put the 1953 March of Dimes campaign over the top. That will be the zero hour for the start of the Mothers' March on Polio, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Woman's club for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Everything is in readiness for this climaxing activity of the March of Dimes. The entire community has been mapped out and a streamlined pattern of procedure set up. Under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Frank P. Sesterhenn, the town has been divided into sections, each in charge of a neighborhood captain.

THE NORTH SIDE captains are Mesdames Burton Bauer, William R. Harrah, Frank Harris, Wilbur G. Inman, George F. Nuernberger, Alfred R. Orcutt, Edward C. Wiegand.

The south side captains are Mesdames Marion Hogate, M. W. Prellberg, Ira Prouty and Arthur N. Trevor.

Other sections have been assigned as follows: Mrs. Andrew Sim and Mrs. Thorlief Larsen, Scarsdale; Mrs. Walter Peirels, Scarsdale Estates and Laurinwood; Mrs. William Runyon, Eastwood; Mrs. Wilbur W. Ashley and Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, Stonegate; Mrs. Fred Waswo, Arlingdale; Mrs. James E. Wood, Sherwood; Mrs. E. J. Lewinski and Mrs. E. Ross, Arlington Park; Mrs. Frederick Thiele, Prospect Meadows; Mrs. O. William Gappert, Arlington Heights Estates; Mrs. Joseph Bryson, Arlington Knolls.

Working with these neighborhood captains will be block contact mothers who have volunteered to join the Mothers' March porch lighting drive. Every porch light which is gleaming during the hour from 7 to 8 p.m., January 29, will be an invitation to marching mothers to come and get each family's contribution. This is an additional means of collecting contributions for the March of Dimes from residents who have not yet made one or who wish to make an additional donation. It will be the final opportunity to support the 1953 March of Dimes.

TUESDAY EVENING, January 29, at 8 p.m., nearly 250 volunteer workers will meet at the field house to receive last minute instructions. A motion picture of a similar Mothers' March which proved highly successful last year will be shown. Among the speakers will be Mrs. Alvin Bramer, of Elgin. Mrs. Bramer, whose son and daughter were both stricken by polio, was chairman of the Mothers' March in Elgin the past two years. She will tell of her personal experiences with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

MARINE RECRUITER INVITES YOUNG MEN TO 'TALK IT OVER'

Marine Recruiter, Sgt. Bob Witt, will be in Arlington Heights every Wednesday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon, at the village hall. His main aim is to select eligible young men for the marine corps. Young men between the ages of 17 and 31 are asked to see Sgt. Witt, who is qualified to answer any and all questions regarding the corps.

High School Boy's Death Rendered Accidental

A verdict of accidental death was rendered by the coroner's jury in the inquest into the death of Clayton Schedler, 15, 500 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Hts. The inquest, continued from January 13, was held Wednesday in Arlington Heights.

The lad was found dead by hanging, by his mother, Mrs. Clayton C. Schedler, when she returned home from shopping January 12. It is believed he was engaged in an experiment when the accident occurred.

Northwest Heighters Activities

Cub Scout Party

Mrs. Glenn Buckley and Mrs. William Sauer recently treated the boys of Cub Scout den 4, pack 232, to a trip to Chicago, where they attended the radio show, "Uncle Ned's Squadron," at the Merchandise Mart. The boys in the group are Tommy Klement, Bruce Law, Michael Nolan, Douglas McPhail, Ronnie Duch, Daryl DeZur, Bobbie Sauer and Richard Buckley. Several of the boys were chosen from the audience to take part in the program and Michael Nolan received a Skyro-Plane as a gift for relating his experiences on a trip to Mississippi with his father. Daryl DeZur and Bruce Law also were given gifts for participating in the quiz portion of the show. They returned to the home of Mrs. Glenn Buckley for lunch.

New Arrival

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Loechl on the birth of their son, Clarence James, born January 12 at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin. There are also three little girls in the family, Patricia Ann, 10; Mary Beth, 4, and Christine Clare, 2. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Loechl and Mrs. Josephine Teufel, all of Chicago.

Baby Showers

Mrs. William Arnold was hostess at a baby shower given for Mrs. Frank Hubbard last Wednesday night. Present were Mrs. Thomas Williams, Mrs. Richard Yelton, Mrs. Stephen Murphy, Mrs. Arnold Sider, Mrs. Robert Balfour, Mrs. John Buckman, Mrs. Harry Swinbank, Mrs. Grace Morrison, Mrs. Robert Weber and Mrs. Herbert Kazmer. Guests enjoyed refreshments and played games.

Last Friday morning a baby shower was given for Mrs. Robert Balfour. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Richard Yelton and Mrs. Wayne Sarvana. A number of neighbor friends attended.

Mrs. Robert Balfour was also the guest of honor at another baby shower given for her Sunday in Glenview. The hostess, Mrs. E. Scharf, is a cousin of Mrs. Balfour and the 20 guests present were also relatives.

Neighborhood Doings

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lemmerhirt recently attended a Saturday night performance of "Country Girl" at the Blackstone Theatre in Chicago. After the play they enjoyed dining and dancing in the Balinese room of the Blackstone hotel. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John MacNeil of Munster, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lurtz had a Saturday night get-together at their home with six other couples. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Heim, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lemmerhirt, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Shedden, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tielsch and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lurtz.

Dining out was a treat last Saturday night for six Northwest Heighter couples. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gooding, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Molis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klement and Mr. and Mrs. Jack LeBeau got together for a dinner party and evening at Elliots restaurant.

Southern Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. William Cary returned Friday night from a two weeks vacation in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where they visited relatives.

Shut-Ins

Mrs. Harriet Cary of Encino, Calif., was hospitalized with injuries when she fell on the icy steps at the home of her son, William Cary.

Jimmy Hannum, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hannum, is confined to his home with chicken pox.

Billy Andres, 7, and his little brother, Larry, 17 months old, have now recovered from the chicken pox and Billy has returned to school. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Andres.

Birthday

Michael Duch celebrated his sixth birthday Sunday with a party for several of his little friends. The other children were Ronnie Gustafson, Tom McPhail and Johnny Atwood. Ricky Weber was unable to attend because of illness. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Duch.

Attend Career Night At Leyden High School

Gene Oliver, college counselor, and Elaine England, physical education instructor at Arlington Heights high school, were on the program of the Leyden Community high school career night, January 14.

Oliver addressed the general meeting on the "Importance and Value of a College Education." Miss England was on the panel which dealt with teaching.

'Jack And The Beanstalk' To Be Given February 8

Children in Arlington Heights are already buying their tickets for "Jack and the Beanstalk," children's play to be presented by the Village Theatre of Arlington Heights at the high school auditorium February 8.

TWO PERFORMANCES are scheduled—one at 2 p. m. and another at 4 p. m. on the same day. Children from nearby communities are invited. Tickets are twenty-five cents for children or adults, and may be obtained from Village Theatre members or purchased at the door.

Production manager, Mrs. Robert Hutchinson, has announced crews and technicians for the play, which is directed by Mrs. Robert Hawley. Maurice Geye heads the technical staff. He has designed the sets and solved numerous difficult technical problems. William Silers is assisting him, as head of the stage crew. Other members of the crew are Byron Culbertson and Robert Bishop. Mrs. Louis Schomburg will act as stage manager, assisted by Mrs. Paul Espenshade.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Mighty impressive is the new business area to be constructed between Dunton and Evergreen in the block south of Campbell st. As described and pictured in last week's Herald, the new shops will offer most modern facilities to Arlington Heights.

This new shopping "plaza" will bring the village up to date. It provides all the newest innovations in store design, and they don't fail to include a parking area, probably the most urgent need of all. And rainy or wintry weather has been considered, too—the walk from store to store will be covered.

The new shopping block is in a location which can easily be integrated with the present south side stores, bank and real estate offices. It provides one solution to Arlington's need for a larger, more complete business section with more space for driving and parking.

The new business block is made possible because the Lattof Motor Sales company is now building (it can be seen under construction on Northwest hwy. near Stonegate) an up-to-the-minute sales and service center to better serve its customers. The present Lattof garage will become a National Tea super market.

Carl M. Teutsch is architect for both projects and designer of the shopping plaza. Charles P. Stewart designed the new Chevrolet agency. Both men are well known residents of Arlington Heights.

The two new projects are not simply functional—they are attractive as well and definitely help give Arlington Heights a "new look."

For New Friends

One of the most successful of last year's parties of the Methodist church Couples club is being repeated this Saturday at their regular meeting. At 8 p.m. the members will gather for dessert and coffee at the homes of the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cowen, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaCroix, and Mr and Mrs. John Shanklin.

The membership is being divided into these smaller groups to enable them to become better acquainted with each other. The club is a large one, and also a friendly one, and newcomers to the church and to Arlington Heights find it a good way to make new friends.

Following the fellowship hour, the couples will meet together at the church for the program. They will hear Ralph Kesselring of Itasca, a missionary from Malaya, who will tell of the country and show pictures of it. He has three small daughters, all of whom were born in Malaya. He is the brother-in-law of Dan Senne of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Robert Isaacson will be glad to explain about this meeting and about the groups' other activities to any couples interested in it. Her telephone is CL 3-2212.

The Couples club is made up of all interested married couples who belong to or attend the Methodist church. It provides a good way to meet people of similar interests. The club meets once a month on the fourth Saturday, and officers are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palmetier, president; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bronwell, vice-president, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaacson, secretary-treasurer.

Good Entertainment

In line with the policy of Paddock Publications to give a plug for worth-while things in the educational and entertainment field, we again call the attention of readers to the Showcase Theatre in Evanston, which is producing a series of plays with well known stars in the casts. These productions are similar to the summer shows at Chevy Chase. They provide good entertainment at a price much less than the loop theatres.

The theatre is near the Northwestern stadium and can be easily reached via Golf and Gross Point rds. The next production, starting January 27 for two weeks, is "Good Housekeeping," a comedy of contemporary political intrique. "My Sister Eileen," with Patsy Kelly and Kay Westfall ends Sunday.

Every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., an intensive training program is available to a very few professional theatre people and advanced amateurs. Acting, diction, dialect and body training are directed by members of the Showcase Theatre staff and guest artists brought in especially for the purpose. Students participate in every branch of the Showcase operation.

Mutual Ins. Co. Reports More Fire Losses But Insurance Gain

Mutual County Fire Insurance Company of Mt. Prospect has completed another successful year. In spite of heavy losses and farm insurance lost by the purchase of land for the enlarged O'Hare airport, the company has made an insurance gain of over a million dollars.

The losses paid to policy holders during 1952 were $20,228.42, while the average losses paid for the five years was $12,694.72.

AT THE ANNUAL meeting held at the company's office Jan. 13, Henry J. Schroeder representing Palatine township and John W. Busse, representing Wheeling township were re-elected directors. George L. Busse was elected director for Elk Grove township.

At the directors meeting held on the same day following the annual meeting, the following officers were elected:

E. F. Schoppe, president; Robert Ranz, vice-president; George Busse, secretary and treasurer, and George L. Busse, assistant secretary.

Windstorm losses were $5,053.23, the largest in the history of the company. The report of the secretary, George Busse, given to the policy holders, read in part as follows:

"WITH THE passing of the year 1952, which is also the 78th year of this company's existence, we can again report a substantial gain in the amount of insurance in force.

"We again lost many policy holders that sold their farms to the O'Hare Airport, but nevertheless we gained $1,034,495.00 in insurance. At the end of 1951 we had $22,799,461.00 in force. We now have $23,833,876.00 insurance in force.

Losses for the past year were	$14,733.60
Windstorm	5,053.23
Lightning	368.50
Extended coverage	73.09
Total	$20,228.42

"THE SECRETARY would again call your attention to those who have oil burners to have them cleaned at least once a year.

"During times when cost and all expenses in general keep on getting higher instead of coming down, the board of directors has reduced the rate of insurance on your policy. The company since 1939 has been operating under the same insurance rate, which is much below what others charge, but now we have reduced the rate for 1953.

"In the year 1925 when I became secretary, we had $11,080,055.00 insurance in force, and now after twenty-seven years we have $23,833,876.00 insurance in force."

Lutherans Plan Campaign For New Addition

Plans for a $100,000 campaign to raise funds for an activities building for St. Paul Lutheran school, Mount Prospect, were discussed at the church's annual meeting Monday night.

Various committees reported on the progress of the ground work being laid for the campaign, which is slated to begin in March. Actual work on the project is not expected to start until 1954, said Rev. J. E. A. Mueller, pastor of the church.

New officers of the church elected were: Alvin C. Hedke, chairman; Harold Busse, secretary and Herbert Froemling, treasurer. New deacons are: Rudolph H. Glade and Arthur Gosch; school board members: Walter Niebuhr Jr., Donald Jaacks, Edward Shaw; trustee, Clarence H. Niebuhr; financial secretary: George A. Mueller.

Chairman of representatives, Vernon Wille; charities representatives, Otto Maleske and Herman Noll; orphan home representatives, Ralph Busse and Roy Cole.

The teaching staff for St. Paul school is also in order for next year. Mrs. Paul Schwier, kindergarten teacher, will not teach next fall. She is being replaced by Miss Joyce Jung of Buffalo, New York. Miss Jung will be married in June to Gene Schmidtke, who teachers the fifth and sixth grades at St. Paul.

Others on the teaching staff are: Miss Carol Lams, Martin Hasz, Elmer Jackisch and Miss Edna Taege.

LET'S TRAVEL

by THELMA POTTER

"Let's go visit way, way far away!"
"I want to go where it is cold."
"I want to visit where it is hot."
"I want to travel by plane."
"I'd like to go by boat."
"Let's take a secret vote on it."

These are comments some fourth graders made in a social studies class one day. They had just finished a unit on the earth, miliar with terms as planets, in which they had become faclimate, jungle, desert, equator, mountains, valley, coasts, ocean, continent, North Pole, and South Pole.

TYPES OF AREAS previously studied made up the list from which the children chose their next unit of work. A secret ballot indicated that the majority of the class desired to study life in a jungle rather than in the mountains or deserts. Another ballot resulted in focusing the study upon the Belgian Congo in Africa.

After a discussion on modes of travel and study of wall maps, the pupils concluded that it was possible to travel in several ways from Chicago to New York City, but that traveling from New York City to Matadi, Belgian Congo, was limited to boat or plane. It was decided they would travel the entire length of the trip by plane because they thought it would be a faster trip.

More problems to be solved prior to taking the trip were set up as follows:

plane companies scheduled trips to Africa?
What would be the cost of such a trip?
What kind of clothing would be essential in tropical climates?
How much luggage would they be allowed to take?
Why is a passport necessary? How are passports obtained?
What souvenirs could they bring back?
How many hours away is Africa by plane?

Many committees were formed to resolve these problems and, as a result, various activities were carried out.

SOME PUPILS secured information from travel agencies in Chicago. One pupil brought a passport which her parents had used. The children then made passports of their own. All of them made small suitcases to conform with baggage requirements. Cut-outs of linen and cotton clothing suitable for tropical climates, in addition to a winter costume for travel in the United States, were used to make up the wardrobe in the suitcases.

Many of the boys who were interested in the hunting of wild game included among their personals a permit to carry guns, when they learned from a travel folder that military permits were required for importation of ammunition.

When all of the passports were issued, suitcases made, and wardrobes selected, the big moment—of going through customs—arrived! A military policeman, a health officer, who administered the typhoid vaccine, and the customs officer, who inspected their luggage, made it official!

Since climate, customs, and methods of travel affected all visitors, the class decided to study those topics as an entire group. Later, they divided into small groups with a chairman to study their own particular interest, be it homes, occupations, recreation, clothing, pottery, or dances of native people. They also decided that the committees should give reports on what they read to the rest of the class, because, as real tourists, they would tell others about their sightseeing tours.

Many children brought models of airplanes and arranged them in an exhibit.

DURING THE science period, the class studied the parts of airplanes and their functions and weather conditions and their effect upon flying.

A study of foods and diet in the health period made the student aware that many foods on our menus are possible because of air freight service. The physical requirements to be met by pilots and stewardesses gave added significance to the necessity of following good health habits.

A unit of this kind can cover many subject areas at one time and be of great interest to fourth grade students.

Missionary To Be Guest At Open House

Rev. Charles W. Arbuthnot, field administrator for Europe of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church, will be the guest at an open house discussion session in the manse of the Community Presbyterian church, Wheeling, Wednesday, January 28, at 8 p. m.

REV. ARBUTHNOT will describe the work of inter-church aid and service to refugees. This work has included assistance in the care of refugees, both in aiding the resettlement of displaced persons, and in the care of those not qualified for resettlement.

Six million refugees of German origin have crowded into western Germany; this group is being increased at the rate of about ten thousand persons per month. The representatives of inter-church aid and service are in the midst of these people with physical care and spiritual comfort.

THE FIELD administrators of the board of foreign missions are holding a meeting on the problems of fields and needs for service in the coming year, in Chicago during this week. It is this which makes Mr. Arbuthnot's visit to Wheeling possible. He has just come from Switzerland where the church agency offices are located.

While this visit may be regarded as great intertst to members of the Presbyterian church, Mr. and Mrs. McGill wish to invite any other friends of the community who are interested in problems on the continent, or in the work of foreign missions in the present era. The manse of the Presbyterian church is the house to the west of the church, on Dundee rd.

New Pastor At Prospect Heights Baptist Church

Rev. Alvin F. Gage started his ministry at the Prospect Heights Baptist church January 11. He and his family come to Prospect Heights from the First Baptist church, Berlin, Wis. He was raised in Newark, N. J., and graduated from the West Side high school of that city.

He is also a graduate of Moody Bible Institute and the Northern Baptist Seminary of Chicago. His wife is a registered nurse, having finished her training in Passaic, N. J.

Wheaton College Prof. To Speak At Free Church

Dr. Merrill C. Tenney, professor of Bible and Theology at Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., will speak at the 7 p. m. Sunday service of the Arlington Hts. Evangelical Free church. Dr. Tenney has chosen for his sermon "Jesus's Great Invitation." There will also be special music by a trio from Wheaton college.

In 1948 Dr. Tenney was appointed dean of the Wheaton graduate school. Before joining the Wheaton faculty in 1943, Dr. Tenney was a member of the faculty of Gordon College of Theology and Missions in Boston. He was graduated from this school in 1927. Dr. Tenney is also a graduate of Missionary Training Institute of Nyack, N. Y. In 1930 he received his master of arts degree from Boston university and in 1944 his doctor of philosophy degree from Harvard university.

Dr. Tenney was ordained to the ministry at the Needham, Mass., First Baptist church in 1928. Dr. Tenney has been a frequent speaker at Bible conferences. During the year of 1951 he held the office of president of the Evangelical Theological society.

DR. M. C. TENNEY
Gibson Studios

"Resurrection Realities," written by Dr. Tenney, was published in 1945; "John: The Gospel of Belief" in 1948; and "Galatians: The Charter of Christian Liberty" in 1950. His most recent writing, "The Genius of the Gospels," was published in 1951.

Wheaton college, where Dr. Tenney is now teaching, is the second largest liberal arts college in Illinois. Although independent of any church or denomination, the college maintains a distinctive Christian emphasis in all of its activities.

Its 1,500 students come from 45 states and 22 foreign countries.

Debate Squad Wins Two

The Arlington high school debate squad traveled to LaGrange high to compete in a debate there. Although the squad members were debating for the first time, they brought back to Arlington two victories in four debates against debaters with one or two years experience.

The affirmative team of Joe Dister and Bob Cummisford succumbed to West Aurora, but came back to win the second round over Sandwich.

The negative team of Paul Gustafson and Don Bedingfield were victors over Morton high of Cicero and were then defeated in the second round by Lyons township.

by MRS. CHARLES KULE

According to a statement made by Miss Gertrude E. Gscheidle, librarian of the Chicago public library, more people are reading books; circulation of books in 1952 was up 597,377 over that of 1951. A total of 8,205,607 books were circulated last year in the Chicago area.

That certainly seems to be an indication that even with radio and television, reading is the favorite past time of the people. Visit your local library and be one of the many who enjoy a good book, either fiction or non-fiction.

Following are some of the new books received this week, and are now on the rental shelf: "The Lotus and the Wind," by John Masters. Readers will find adventure on the level of the human heart and the human spirit in this new novel by the author of "Nightrunners of Bengal."

"Desiree" by Annemarie Selinko. This is the true story of the Cinderella from Marseilles who followed her heart to a throne in the bold, glittering years of Napoleon's rise and fall; a fabulous historical novel that is sweeping the Western World; already number one best seller in three languages.

"The Burning Man," by Sarah Gertrude Millin, author of "God's Stepchildren." Mrs. Millin has taken Johannes Van der Kemp, a man of truly tragic proportions, and has drawn a magnificent portrait of a man whose story in all its contradictions sheds much light on the grave conflict that today threatens to throw South Africa into open violence. Mrs. Millin lives in Johannesburg. "When the Gods Are Silent," by Mikhail Soloviev. Here is the mightiest upheaval of our age—the 30 years of the Russian Revolution—re-created in the tradition and with the sincerity of the world's great masterpieces of literature. It is a simple story, the story of one family, a peasant family from the steppes, and even more of one man, Mark Surov. Through his eyes we see the agony of a generation and the crucifixion of a people.

NON-FICTION: "Sea Fever," by A. H. Rasmussen is the story of a man hopelessly and happily in love with the sea and sailing vessels. Designed for men who like their maritime reading raw and realistic, "Sea Fever" is at once a thrilling sea yarn and a vivid picture of the era when steamships were beginning to edge out the four-masted barques, and it embodies the full glamor and romance of the vast deep. "Journey Into Wonder" by N. J. Berrill. This is a book of adventure, of great personalities, and of the infinite variety and color of plant and animal life—a book of natural history in the very broadest sense.

Rug making is perhaps the most rewarding of all the home crafts: certainly it is one of the easiest and most practical, offering even the beginner the opportunity of creating things that are useful, beautiful and original. This book tells the beginner exactly how to start, what equipment is needed, how to plan and design small simple rugs, which materials work best, how to choose colors for a design and how to dye strips of fabric when necessary.

ONE NEW MYSTERY "Into Thin Air" by Jack Iams and one new Western "The Secret Brand" by Gene Austin.

For the teen-ager: "Sun Up and Scorpion" by Will James; delightful Western stories, and "Shanghai Passage," a story of mutiny and mystery on the Pacific.

For the fourth through eighth grader: "Mr. Bell Invents the Telephone;" "Maggie Rose;" "Boru," the story of an Irish wolfhound; "The Biography of a Grizzly;" "Bright Morning;" "The Wild Dog of Edmonton;" "Christopher, the Giant;" "The King of the Golden River."

Next week new books for the nursery age children through third grade will be listed.

Register Now For Easter Trip

Juniors and seniors of Arlington Heights township high school who want to be sure of a reservation for the Easter vacation trip to Washington, D. C., have been asked to place a $15 deposit by January 30.

The remainder of the price of the trip will be collected in March.

THE TRIP will begin April 3, and those who do not take the extension trip will return April 9. The group which makes the side trip to New York City will return April 11. The all expense tours will cost $110.50 for Washington, and $148.50 for both cities. This includes all transportation, meals, sightseeing tour fees, and admissions when the student is with the group. All accommodations will be first class. All long distance traveling will be by train, with the exception of the overnight boat trip up the Potomac River. Housing will be provided in hotels, with four people to a room.

Students from the local high school will travel with a group from Riverside-Brookfield high school. Dolores Hudson, language teacher of Arlington Heights high school, and H. G. Lott of the Riverside faculty will accompany the groups as chaperones.

Included in the sightseeing schedule are: Williamsburg, restored colonial village in Virginia; Annapolis Naval Academy; Mt. Vernon, home of George Washington; and all the historic and famous sights in Washington, D. C.

Those students who go to New York will see a radio or television production, tour Rockefeller Center, take the famous Circle Line boat trip around Manhattan Island, and visit Radio City Music Hall.

MOST OF THE sightseeing will be done by the entire group using chartered buses, but some time is provided for individual sightseeing, shopping, and other activities. While in Washington the group will visit the Casino Royal, a night club, for dinner.

Dress for the trip will be strictly informal, with the emphasis on comfort. Girls will wear dressy school clothes and flat-heeled shoes. Slacks and sport shirts will be appropriate for boys. A few special occasions are planned for which everyone will want to dress up.

Students who made the trip last year were highly enthusiastic about it. All felt that the visit to places of historic interest and the scenes of today's important actions was well worth while.

St. Peter Church Completes Successful Year; Elects Officers

St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, has just completed a successful year, according to the report given at the annual meeting January 18.

Among its highlights was the completion and dedication of the new activity building. This new unit not only serves the students and organizations of the church and school, but also serves the community at large.

There are 1350 communicant members on the rolls of St. Peter church. The new church council recently elected is as follows: Henry Hoeft, congregational chairman; George Kusch, vice chairman and chairman of the council; Edward Grimm, Alfred Beigel, Theodore H. Clausing, Henry Hogreve, John Meyn and Leroy Walsh on the board of elders; Wilbert Kastning, Walter Hetzke, Werner Reese and Raymond W. Meyer on the board of Christian education.

William Brockman, Herman Behn and Alfred Sander on the board of trustees; Adolph W. Obermann, parish school principal; K. L. Busse, superintendent of the Sunday school; John W. Busse, treasurer; Martin Kloehr, financial secretary; Ed Jannusch, chairman of the finance committee; Fred L. Mueller, recording secretary and Donald Lussman, corresponding secretary.

Other highlights of the year included 50 new school desks for one of the classrooms, a gift of the Mothers' club; the highway bulletin board, which was completely rebuilt and redecorated and equipped with a bronze cross as a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bolte by their daughter, Mrs. Carl Klehm; a new purple vestment for the church altar, pulpit and lectern, given in memory of Fred H. Kehe by his wife and family; and a new Buick automobile for the pastor, a gift from the congregation.

In Ohio To Further Study Experimental Geometry Program

Roderick McLennan, mathematics instructor at Arlington Heights high school, is in Columbus, O., this week end to confer with John Schacht, mathematics instructor at Bexley high school, and Dr. Fawcett, dean of the college of education of Ohio State university.

The purpose of the conference is to further develop the experimental geometry program which McLennan is conducting at the local high school.

John Schacht is the inventor of much of the equipment used in the program, and uses the equipment along with a text book in his own high school. Dr. Fawcett, who is a professor of math, is particularly interested in the development of techniques of teaching math.

McLennan also had a preliminary conference with these two educators when he attended the winter meeting of the National Council of Teacrers of Math, held in Lincoln, Nebr., December 29-31.

Community Council Aids Growth Of Arlington

All civic organizations in Arlington Heights have been forwarded blanks by Arlington Heights Community Council on which to register the names and addresses of members who will represent the organization on the council board.

The council is filling a real need in Arlington Heights as it serves as the contact agent between the various organizations.

Donald R. Hartman is president.

The purpose of the council as outlined in letters recently sent out reads in part as follows:

1. To provide an agency through which all community groups can coordinate their activities.
2. To promote community cooperation.
3. To increase the effectiveness of all community activities.
4. To promote the achievement of community-wide projects.
5. To provide a representative community group for the study of community problems.
6. To foster community spirit.
7. To hear and discuss the suggestions of any individual citizen or group of citizens that may be presented in the interests of the community as a whole.
8. To investigate and inventory the social, physical, cultural and spiritual resources of the community, and to promote a more general utilization of such resources.

Parents Invited To Consult With Teachers On Test Results

Parents of sophomores and juniors, who recently took the development tests at Arlington Heights high school, are invited to consult with the school counselors on the evaluation of the tests, Harold L. Slichenmyer, administrative assistant, announced this week.

The evaluation of results will be discussed with any parent who will make an appointment and come to the school during school hours.

All sophomores were given the Iowa test of educational development. Juniors were given the tests developed by the Illinois statewide high school testing program. Students also obtain the results, along with an evaluation thereof, in personal conferences with the counselors.

The average score for this school is above the average for the state and nation.

NW Scout Council Holds Dinner, Presents Awards, Elects Officers

Nearly 400 scouters and their wives of the Northwest Suburban Council attended the annual dinner given in their honor at St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights, January 11.

Following the dinner the guests heard the nominating committee report, saw the presentation of the highest honors in scouting, and renewed old friendships.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the silver beaver award, which is the highest honor in the scout council and is given for outstanding leadership to boyhood. The wives also participate in this ceremony, receiving beautiful corsages. William Zeibell made the presentation.

Harold Love, the first recipient, has been in scouting since 1944. He served as cub committee chairman, troop chairman, scoutmaster in 1946, and has been a member of the executive board since 1947. He also served as Skokie district training chairman, district vice-chairman, and district chairman.

GEORGE SHEPPARD, the retiring council president, was next to receive the coveted Silver Beaver. He started his scouting career in 1941, serving on the troop committee, post advisor, institutional representative, neighborhood commissioner, district commissioner, and has been on the executive board since 1945. In 1950 he was elected council president, a position he filled successfully for two years.

Scout "Oscars" were presented for outstanding service in scouting to Wally DeBuhr, Arthur Fink, Les McAuliffe, Mrs. Walter Zenner and Robert Simpson. Their wives received corsages. Mrs. Zenner received the "Oscar" so Mr. Zenner received the corsage.

Other awards for meritorious service, leadership and training were presented, with Wilbert Granzin receiving the arrowhead honor. Scouters keys were given to Charles Payne, George Moudry, Elvin Hoch, William Freer, Bob Ornberg and William Perry Utermohlen Jr. Scouter awards went to Robert Albrecht, Berwyn Wohld, E. F. W. Martin, Jack Dawson and Ruby Tobin.

George Sheppard complimented and thanked all of his committees, scout executive, Stan Huntington, assistant scout executive, Jordon Minerva, and office personnel, for their hearty cooperation thereby making possible the outstanding progress of scouting in the NWS council.

STAN HUNTINGTON praised his assistant, Jordon Minerva, as well as Joe Cissnar, who only recently joined the professional ranks of scouting. Stan reminded all scout widows to remember February 14 as the date for the "Scout Widows Ball," which is a gala event given especially for the wives.

The Arlington Heights Harmonettes entertained with several songs they have made so popular.

Rev. Luther V. Stephan included in his invocation a prayer for world peace that is uppermost in the minds of all serious-minded people.

Robert F. Hurleigh, Tribune correspondent and commentator, ("So goes the world") was right at home as master of ceremonies, despite his worry that he might "louse up" the program. Bob is a den dad and his wife is a den mother in Barrington, where the Hurleighs and their five children live.

Colors were presented and retired by 13 eagle scouts who received their eagle scout awards in 1952.

AT A BRIEF business meeting preceding the dinner officers were elected to carry on scouting for 1953.

Council president, Mark Creviston: He started his scouting activities in an Indiana council in 1930, spending three years. In 1944 he came to NWSC where he served in cub scouting, an explorer unit and in 1951 district chairman and council vice-president.

Executive vice-president, William Kratt; council vice-presidents: Ralph Spoo, Wilfred Pilgrim, Roy Pierce, Francis Saunders and Allan Armstrong; commissioner, Les McAuliffe; treasurer, J. R. Lawrence.

Blackhawk—James Wax, C. Rosene, Charles Yaeger, Fred Welsh, Ed Emery.

Signal Hill—John Bell, William Shatwell, Joseph McLoughlin, William Mason, Henry Lipofsky, Herb Welchman, John Ogden.

Algonquin — Charles Sykora, Otto Harz, John Klocke, F. Girard, Ken MacKay.

Skokie Valley—F. Elliott Jarvis, Harold Love, Clyde Anderson, John Speer, Ken Stevens, Al Lowry, Yale Saffro, Cecil Nixon.

National council representatives—Erich Schalk, George Sheppard, William Kratt, D. P. Lewis.

Advisory members—Blair Plimpton, Rex Volz, John Gillick, Douglas Armstrong, N. M. Lattof, Hoyt Steele, A. F. Mueller, Frank Potter, Tom Pettise, Dan Conway, Leon Smaage, Paul Younger.

Honorary members—Fred G. Smith, W. A. Miles, Paul S. Byrd, Charles Passmore, A. L. Webster, C. A. Stewart, Arnold Hatch. (ACM

Named Vice-President Of Oncrete Firm

Fred L. Steging, 202 S. Mason st., Bensenville, formerly president of the Nu-Enamel corporation, has joined Lowebco, Inc., of Chicago, makers of "Oncrete," "Wilsolve" and "Adtex," as executive vice president, it was announced by Edward M. Loeser, president.

A resident of Bensenville for the past 30 years, Steging is a member of the zoning board and the Bensenville Lions club. Mr. and Mrs. Steging have three children.

Loeser said Steging's appointment is part of an expansion program Lowebco is now undertaking. This will include additions to its nationwide distributor and dealer organization, the introduction of new products, establishment of foreign marketing operations and an augmented advertising, sales and merchandising program.

Well known in the paint industry, Steging, 39, has a wide experience in all phases of the business from production, through selling and general management. In a 20-year association with Nu-Enamel, he rose from office boy to president, assuming the latter post late in 1951.

In joining Lowebco, Steging is resuming a business relationship with Loeser which began when both were associated with the Nu-Enamel corporation. Loeser was sales promotion manager of that company for 13 years before leaving to establish Lowebco, Inc., seven years ago.

Area Youth Plan For Interfaith Service

Youth representatives from five churches of the Arlington Heights township high school area met Sunday afternoon at the South church in Mount Prospect to lay plans for their Interdenominational Youth service February 1 at 7 p.m. The service will be held at the South church, Community-Baptist, 501 S. Emerson st., Mount Prospect.

Present for the planning session were young folks representing the Presbyterian and Methodist churches of Arlington Heights, the Community church of Prospect Heights, and the Community Presbyterian and Community-Baptist churches of Mount Prospect. It is hoped that three or four other churches will also be represented at the service February 1.

Plans laid by the young folks Sunday included arrangements for the conduct of the service by youth from most of the churches of the area and a talk by a guest speaker.

The speaker will be Rev. Bon Richardson, head resident of Beacon house in Chicago. Theme for Youth Week this year is "Strive to Know—Dare to Believe."

Sponsoring Youth Week observances in Protestant churches and through interdenominational gatherings is the United Christian Youth Movement, the youth part of the National Council of Christ.

Following the service February 1 the young folks plan a fellowship session with refreshments, get-acquainted opportunities and a brief song session. (AM

Wilbur Busse Transferred To Houston Office Of Bridge Company

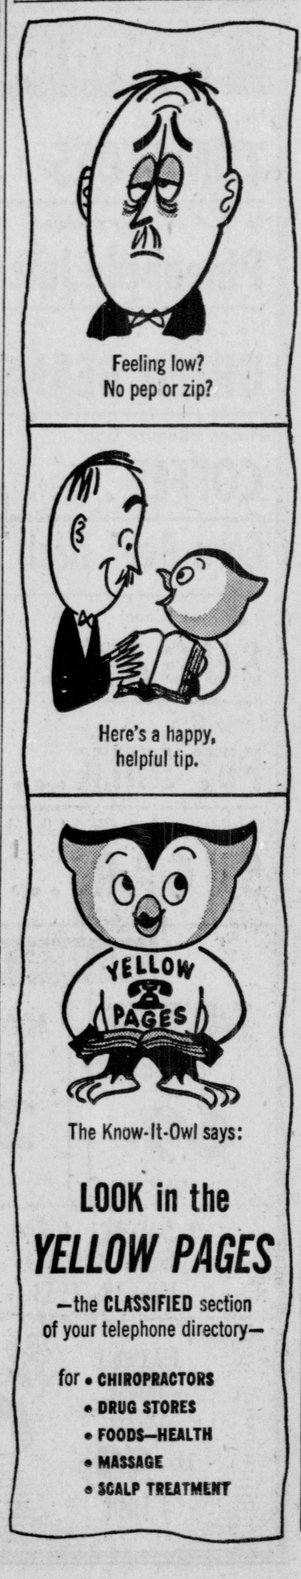

Wilbur E. Busse, who has been in the general sales office of Chicago Bridge and Iron Co., was recently transferred to the Houston sales office of that company, taking over his now position January 5.

The home office publication of that company has this to say about Wilbur, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Busse, Elmhurst rd., Elk Grove:

"Bill was born on a farm near Mount Prospect, on June 14, 1919. He attended Valparaiso university in 1937 and 1938. He graduated from the University of Illinois in 1941 with a B.S. degree in civil engineering.

"Mr. Busse started in our Chicago drafting room December 10, 1945. From October, 1946, to June, 1951, he worked in the research, engineering and erection departments. He was then associated with the National Production Authority in Washington where he was assistant chief of tank section in the engine and turbine division. When he returned to Chicago in March, 1952, he started in the general sales office.

"Mr. Busse served in the U. S. navy, bureau of ships, from 1941 until 1945, when he was released from active duty with a rank of Lt. Commander."

EASTWOOD EVENTS

Baptized

Donna Gale Burrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burrow of Dryden pl. was christened Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Mount Prospect. Her godparents were Mrs. H. Peterson and Miss R. Redman, both of Chicago. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Eich of Mount Prospect and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Burrow of Desert Hot Springs, Calif. For her christening Donna Gale wore a dress made 77 years ago by her great grandmother — she is the nineteenth baby to wear this dress. On this same day, Bonnie, Donna Gale's older sister, celebrated her second birthday.

Mrs. Donald Shaw of E. Euclid ave. is having an organizational meeting of the Maternity Center at her home this evening. This meeting is preparatory to the drive that takes place in February. Miss Helen Hoffman of Chicago, a director of Maternity Center, will be present at the gathering. Mrs. Douglas Smith of Beverley lane is chairman of the Arlington Heights committee.

Pvt. Robert Gillespie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gillespie of Brighton pl., was home on a 15 day furlough from Camp Gordon, Ga. Bob has just completed his basic training and for the next six months will study electronics and radar. While Bob was home, he celebrated his twenty-first birthday.

Visit Here

Week end visitors at the Thomas Loftus home were their grandchildren, Michael, Colleen, Micky and Patty McDermott of Chicago.

Mrs. Charles Bennett is entertaining Mrs. Olive Bliss this evening at a stork shower. Guests will include Jane Holloway, Ginny McCosh, Alice Johnson, Lucina Johnson, Helen Ullock, Elsie Kelly and Beth Viteux. Mrs. Smith, mother of Mrs. Bliss, will also be present at the shower.

Entertain

Mrs. William Heitz of 219 N. Beverley lane gave a luncheon at her home to introduce newcomer, Mrs. Lois Evans, to her neighbors. Luncheon guests included Mrs. Carl Nickelsen, Mrs. Dick Barton, Mrs. Matt Cockrell, Mrs. Jack Thompson and Mrs. Jack Anderson. Little six month old Carol Evans also enjoyed meeting her new neighbors. The Evanses have a son, Dickie, who is in kindergarten at North school.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Loftus have just returned from a month's visit to Palm Springs, Calif.

Ill

Eastwood youngsters on the sick list are Nicky Tuttle, who has mumps, and Kurt Menick, who is recuperating from German measles.

Hails 40th Year With Western Electric

Peter A. Pederson, 535 Arlington Heights rd., Itasca, recently celebrated his 40th anniversary with the Western Electric company's Hawthorne works in Chicago, manufacturer and supplier for the Bell Telephone system.

Pederson started work for Western Electric in Des Moines as an installer, transferring to the Chicago installation division in 1918 and to the Hawthorne works in 1923. He is currently a price specialist for the company.

Formerly a resident of Chicago's northwest side, he and Mrs. Pederson moved in 1950 to Itasca, where they purchased a 2½ acre tract on which they grow most of their own vegetables and fruit. Pederson is a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, long-service employees organization, and of the Hawthorne Flower and Garden club industrial garden group.

Nurses' Club Plans For Their Philanthropies

At the January meeting of the Arlington Heights Nurses' club, at which time members were entertained by the High School Harmonettes, Mrs. George H. Jirgal, ways and means chairman, outlined extensive plans for the group's money-raising projects for the coming year.

These include the annual white elephant auction to be held in February, and the usual deluxe rummage sale in August. In addition, plans are getting under way for a unique style show to be held in the high school auditorium early in the fall.

The white elephant auction is held only for club members, but they are asking the public to keep in mind the other two projects, for these support their many philanthropies.

In addition to the ever-growing lending closet, the Nurses' club helps support an elderly patient in the Arlington Heights Rest Home, maintains a loan fund available to any girl wishing to study nursing, and contributes to the following: boy scouts, girl scouts, fund for needy children, National Foundation for Poliomyelitis, Kenny Poliomyelitis Fund, Red Cross, Youth Center of Arlington Heights, dental clinic, and arthritic, cancer, and heart funds.

To Hold Gala Affair At Conrad Hilton

REV. H. T. O'HARA

Plans for one of the season's outstanding social events were crystallized last Thursday evening when officers of the Holy Name society and the Catholic Women's club of Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, met to organize committees for their forthcoming card party and dance. The meeting, attended by 18 parishoners and Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, pastor, was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett.

Although many of the details for the affair are still unannounced, it will be held in the grand ballroom of Chicago's Conrad Hilton hotel April 17.

According to the co-chairmen, Mrs. William Hatch and John Barrett, the event is planned to satisfy all tastes. In addition to cards, there will be dancing to a name orchestra. The possibility of additional entertainment by well-known stars of stage, radio and television is contemplated.

The prime purpose of the card party and dance is to help raise funds for the erection of a new church and school in the southwest part of Arlington Heights, seat of the new parish.

In the name of Our Lady of the Wayside church, the co-chairmen have extended an invitation to all residents of Arlington to attend the forthcoming party at the Conrad Hilton. Tickets will be available shortly through neighbors who will canvass the community on a block-by-block basis.

Appointed at last Thursday's formative meeting, in addition to the general co-chairmen, Mrs. Hatch and Mr. Barrett, were Mrs. John Solon and William McNeil, co-chairmen on tickets; Mrs. Carolyn Sindelar, Mrs. William Pailey and Willard Walters, gifts; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lonze, entertainment; Mrs. Jonn Barrett and Robert Deibel, raffle; Edward Hennessey and John Solon, hotel arrangements; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grant and Jack Reilly, publicity, and Mrs. John Baker, house—cards and gifts.

Maternity Center Opens Fund Drive

Mrs. Donald H. Shaw, 900 E. Euclid ave., Arlington Heights, will entertain 10 guests at her home Thursday evening, January 22, to organize a team of Arlington Heights women for the 1953 enrollment drive of the Chicago Maternity Center. Mrs. Douglas Smith, 630 Beverly lane, will serve as chairman of the team.

During the February campaign, more than 400 volunteers will seek to enroll 1,000 new contributors to the maternity center, a unique social service organization which delivers babies in the homes of needy Chicago mothers, trains doctors and medical students in obstetrics, and engages in medical research. Last year, the center delivered more than 3,500 babies and trained more than 300 medical men and women.

Mrs. J. Bernard Mullen Jr., chairman, and Mrs. Vernon Armour, co-chairman of the enrollment drive, will attend the meeting at Mrs. Shaw's house. A film strip depicting the center's work will be shown, and they will discuss it with the volunteers.

The campaign will open officially with a kick-off luncheon to be given by Mrs. John Andrews King January 29 at the Casino.

Arlington Heights women on Mrs. Smith's team are Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Eugene Bell, Mrs. Edward W. Crofoot Jr., Mrs. John A. Lindstrom, Mrs. Robert J. Malcomson, Mrs. Gerhard E. Seidel, Mrs. George N. Tuttle and Mrs. William P. Utermohlen. Other members are Mrs. Robert Cushman, Des Plaines, and Mrs. J. B. Miller, Mt. Prospect. (AMC

Assisting the hostesses, Mrs. John Auld and Mrs. Jack Anderson, will be Mrs. Raymond Driscoll, Mrs. Harry Dunderdale, Mrs. George Jirgal and Mrs. John Kelly.

Favorites for Flavor

By Lois Seiler

Last week two excellent recipes belonging to Mrs. Hazel Larson of Arlington Heights were printed in this column. Mrs. Larson was very generous in sharing several recipes from her extensive collection with this columnist, so again this week we are featuring two more of her "tried and true" Kansas recipes.

One is for a Cheese Souffle which never fails, and the other is for Oatmeal Muffins which are just delicious.

The souffle is a simple and useful every day dish which is held in awe by many people who entertain an exaggerated idea of the difficulties of its composition. But Mrs. Larson guarantees that, if made according to her directions, it will stay up.

Delicate and tempting, this souffle contains cheddar cheese and is served with a mushroom sauce. The sauce is made by simply diluting a can of mushroom soup with a little milk.

Mrs. Larson's Oatmeal Muffins are tasty and wholesome, and very easy to make. They are perfect to serve at breakfast or luncheon.

Cheese Souffle

3 tbls. Minute Tapioca
1 tsp. salt
1 cup milk
1 cup grated cheese (cheddar)
3 beaten egg yolks
3 egg whites, beaten stiff

Heat the tapioca, salt and milk in the top of a double boiler. Add the grated cheese and the eaten egg yolks. Cool.

Beat egg whites until stiff and dry and fold into the above mixture.

Pour into buttered casserole and place the casserole in a pan of water.

Bake 40 minutes in 350 degree oven. Serve with a mushroom sauce which is made by diluting a can of mushroom soup with a little milk.

Oatmeal Muffins

1 cup oatmeal
1 cup flour
½ cup brown sugar
1 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. soda
Pinch of salt
½ cup melted shortening
1 egg
1 cup sour milk

Combine all of the dry ingredients.

In a separate bowl, beat the egg. Combine the sour milk and melted shortening and beat into the egg.

Stir the liquid quickly into the dry ingredients. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake muffins in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 25 minutes.

Hospital Auxiliary To Meet Friday

The women of Resurrection Hospital Auxiliary, will hold their first meeting of the New Year January 23, at 1 p. m. at Resurrection high school, 7432 Talcott ave., Chicago.

Mrs. William Powers, 6400 Olympia ave., president of the Auxiliary, will conduct a short business meeting, following the dessert luncheon. Mrs. A. R. Oleck, 1651 N. Melvina, will introduce the guest speaker, Miss Mercedee J. Hurst. Her topic will be "Dreams Do Come True." (B4

Jane Merrill And Lavon Fritson Wed

Stuart-Rodgers Studio

In a double ring ceremony recently Miss Jane Lois Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Merrill of 107 N. Pine ave., Mount Prospect, became the bride of Lavon Dale Fritson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fritson of Franklin, Nebr.

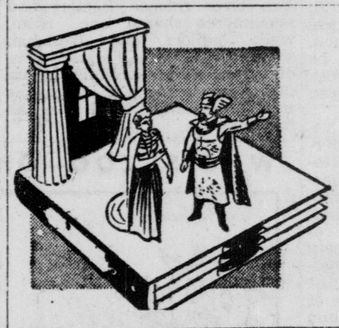

Rev. Edwin I. Stevens officiated at the ceremony held at 8 p.m. at the South church, Mount Prospect.

The bride wore a white princess style gown of pure silk taffeta, and her fingertip length veil was held in place by a white satin cap. She carried a garland of roses and ivy pinned to a white taffeta muff.

A reception for 165 guests was held at The Pantry in Park Ridge.

Following their honeymoon in the Ozarks, the couple went to Kansas City, Mo., where they are now residing at Linda Vista apartments, 1301 E. Armour blvd.

The bride, now employed at the Rehabilitation Institute in Kansas City, attended Lindenwood college, St. Charles, Mo., and Beaver college, Philadelphia, and was graduated from the University of Illinois. She is an occupational therapist. Mr. Fritson served overseas in World War II, was graduated from the University of Nebraska and is presently employed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Co.

'MY SISTER EILEEN'

It was a wonderful evening of entertainment for a large, appreciative audience at Showcase Theatre, Evanston, January 13 at opening night of "My Sister Eileen."

Patsy Kelly, former movie comedienne, and Kay Westfall, local TV performer, were starred in the rollicking Ruth Kenney comedy, "My Sister Eileen." The play is based on the brilliant sketches written by Miss Kenne for the New Yorker when she and her sister were trying to crash the literary and theatrical gates of the great big city during the depression days.

Patsy Kelly is even more wonderful in person, her talents contributing a laugh a minute, and sometimes they're paced even faster than that. Kay Westfall as the younger sister is a lovely and charming person. The supporting cast is a tremendous one, in numbers and acting skill. You won't forget Irwin Charone as the arty Greek landlord; Ward Ohrman as The Wreck from Georgia Tech; nor Barbara Foley who delineates deliciously his lil' Dixie girl friend; Robert Anglund and Thomas Poston as men in the girls' new city.

Hugh Rennie directed this Showcase success; Don Bolen merits praise for reproducing a Greenwich village basement apartment which determines a good deal of the plot. In this instance a room is not a static portion of a house — it moves and bellows and even weeps.

At the end of the play Patsy Kelly received a lovely bouquet from her TV co-worker Tullulah Bankhead, and Bob of the Kay and Bob show remembered Kay. And the entire audience enjoyed a party in the lobby, and had a piece of Miss Kelly's birthday cake, which the cast had ordered.

Showcase Theatre is the fulfillment of a woman's dream. Hope Summers, radio, TV and stage actress of exceptional talents set the wheels in motion to renovate the former Stadium movie house into this interesting legitimate theater, which offers a winter stock company in this area for the first time in 20 years. She has able helpers, among them Lee Foley, assistant producer.

"My Sister Eileen" plays all of this week, including Sunday. There are five interesting and "different" plays left in the Showcase series.

ONE MAN SHOW

Two songs have recently hit the 'juke" boxes in this area. One is a catchy Dixieland number, the other a haunting ballad. Both were composed by the same man. This is not all!

This same young man manufactures the records, publishes the music and sings the songs. One will see the name Ty Nagle on the records, but in real life this artist is none other than Joe Tinaglia, pharmacist and co-owner of Sieburg Drug store in Arlington Heights.

Music is Joe's avocation. He's been writing lyrics and melodies for years, and encouraged by his wife, Penny, and friends who thought the tunes were good, he decided to put them on a "platter" and let the public decide what they thought about them.

The records are licensed by Broadcast Music, Inc., and have a Canyon label. Andy Hesch of A. H. Entertainers, which supplies the juke boxes for this area, is putting the new 45 platter on all his boxes this week. The songs will also appear on juke boxes which still play the 78 records.

Kay Westfall and Lee Young, radio and TV stars, have leading roles in "My Sister Eileen" now playing at Showcase Theatre, Inc., Evanston.

The name of the tunes! "Cross The Mason-Dixon Line," and "So Lonely." Ty is accompanied by the Ella Wilson Trio and both of the records are well worth hearing. Who knows, one might even end up as a hit tune of 1953.

"Cross The Mason-Dixon Line" has already made its radio debut, as it was heard on the Jim Amachee show over WJJD last Thursday morning.

State Garden Club To Hold Lecture

Members from garden clubs all over the state are anticipating attending a lecture, "An Appreciation of Color," to be given by Mrs. Adelaide B. Wilson, South Orange, N. J., author and lecturer on flower arrangement, February 11 at 1:30 p. m. in Fullerton hall, Art Institute of Chicago.

The Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., is presenting Mrs. Wilson in her first lecture in this part of the country. She is an outstanding lecturer on flower arrangement from the mechanics to finished product. Her particular field is color in flower arrangement and her book on this subject will be published very soon.

Mrs. Wilson was a student in art and literature at Columbia university, is an instructor of flower show schools of National Council of State Garden clubs, and was a contributor to National Council "Handbook for Flower Shows." Mrs. Wilson is a past president of the Garden Club of New Jersey, and she is a lecturer on color and design in Eastern schools.

This lecture will be open to the public whether garden club members or not at price of $2.40 each. Fullerton Hall has tiered seats and reserved seat tickets may be obtained in advance of the program from the Garden Club of Illinois headquarters in the Palmer House, Chicago.

Presenting The Younger Generation

Bright Eyes

These twinkling, bright, blue eyes belong to tiny Laura Ann Damler, 20 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Damler of 112 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights.

Laura, a very talkative little lady, has named her pet cat, Tabby Cat. In addition to her cat and dolls, she is most fond of her big brother, Lee. Lee is 13 years old and attends the Junior high school. Mrs. Pearl Damler and Mrs. Della Voss, both of Chicago, are the grandparents.

An Answered Prayer

One and a half years ago this smiling little fellow, John Stanley, made an appearance in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Olson of 1116 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights. His arrival greatly added to the happiness of his two sisters who had prayed long for a baby brother. Little John was really tiny at the time of birth, just a mere two pounds. As you can see he has made up for lost time and is a healthy, robust, little guy. "He's a climber," laughed Mrs. Olson, "and can always be found on top of the dining room table if we forget to pull the chairs away." "He is fascinated with the Hammond organ;" she continued. "About the only time he is quiet is when his daddy plays it."

Elizabeth Ann, 8, a third grader at the North school and Vicky, 5, a member of the kindergarten class, are John's big sisters. Everything little brother does is wonderful according to these little girls. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Powell of Kansas City, Mo., are the grandparents.

Blondies

Next we have the sweet, blonde and blue-eyed daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guenther of 58 S. Plum Grove, Palatine.

Sally, first in line, just reached her first birthday. She has been walking for a month, says "Da-da" and prefers dolls to other playthings.

Kathy is four years old and a fine little "mother" of baby sister. The girls are good companions and play nicely together, stated Mrs. Guenther. Kathy is in the beginners class at the Immanuel Lutheran church and takes baton twirling lessons.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Sander and Mrs. Anna Guenther of Palatine are the grandparents.

Tiny Tease

Teasing the dog, Scotty, is the favorite activity of this mischievous mite! He is Allen Goebbert, 13½ month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Goebbert Jr., of 136 N. Bothwell, Palatine.

Allen has light blond hair, blue eyes and an ability for getting into everything, stated his grandmother. He has been walking since he was nine and one-half months old so had an early beginning in his life of exploration!

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dueball of 50 W. Wood st., Palatine, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Goebbert Sr. of Des Plaines are the grandparents. He has five great grandparents, Mrs. Matilda Dueball of Arlington Hts., Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Bloese of Harvard and Mr. and Mrs. Louie Goebbert of Arlington Heights.

Furniture Fashions

There is much more than meets the eye in today's furniture—so be sure to ask for a complete demonstration when you visit your favorite furniture store!

For instance, the table shown above may be adjusted either to dining or coffee table height.

The mobile brunch cart (new streamlined version of Grandmother's tea wagon) is equipped with concealed ball-bearing wheels. It may be used as a buffet, a small host bar or for TV snacks in the living room. Drop leaves and ample storage space are further features.

Matching upholstered dining chairs complete this interesting limed oak grouping.

Double-purpose furniture is all the rage these days and has made a vast contribution to our comfort and convenience.

About Your Health

Normally, the arteries or canals by which the blood travels to the various parts of the body are flexible and supple. As we grow older, the flexibility and elasticity are lost, resulting in a condition known as arteriosclerosis, a term stemming from two Greek words meaning artery and harden. While the disease is associated with the aging process, it also develops in the younger age group.

The only function of the arteries is to convey blood to the cells which make up the various organs, muscles and bones of the body. So long as the amount of blood received or the rate at which the blood is received by a given organ is adequate for its nutrition, nothing happens. But if the arteries become obstructed or so narrow that the flow of blood is interfered with, the groups of cells within the organ die, impairing its function. Again the blood supply may be sufficient for the organ at rest, but insufficient when the organ is working.

WHAT CAUSES the interference or obstruction in the arteries? In arteriosclerosis the hardening may be only an increase in the thickness of the wall of the artery with some loss of elasticity and narrowing. Again there may be patchy or plaque-like deposits of fat in and just beneath the lining membrane of the artery. Gradually, calcium salts, which are normally present in the body, are deposited in these fatty patches, where they remain to become stony hard. As these deposits become more numerous and harder, the blood flow through the arteries is naturally impeded.

While the exact cause of arteriosclerosis is not known, heredity is considered a factor. Overweight is also a factor, since it is found twice as frequently in obese people. Infection, chronic overwork, long periods of inadequate rest, continuous nervous and emotional tension are other factors that enter into the picture of hardening of the arteries.

THE ABILITY of the body to assimilate cholesterol, a constituent of foods containing animal fats, is now being studied as a contributing factor, but even if this ingredient were eliminated from our diets, our bodies would produce a certain amount of it.

Because arteriosclerosis directly affects the development of other conditions, such as certain types of heart disease, and symptoms resembling others, such as cramping and muscular pains, it is wise to have the condition investigated. In the patient who complains of pain in the chest on exertion, for example, it may be possible to prevent or delay for a long time the so-called heart attack.

See Inauguration On TV

Students and faculty members of the Arlington Heights high school saw the presidential inauguration Tuesday on two large screen TV sets which were provided by Dreyer Electric Co.

The sets were placed in the girls' gym, in which the folding partition was drawn, making two large rooms. Seniors and sophomores shared one room, while juniors and freshmen shared the other. All classes were dismissed a few minutes before the ceremonies began, and classes were not resumed until after the inauguration.

Catholic Women To Meet January 28

District Lake of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women will hold its regular meeting of the winter series Wednesday, January 28, at 2 p. m., at St. Mary's 175 E. Illinois rd., Lake Forest. Ill.

This meeting is part of a series of twenty in Cook and Lake counties. Mrs. A. G. Desch, 488 Sheridan rd., Evanston, who is archdiocesan president, will bring "Highlights of the National Convention in Seattle" to the delegates.

Guest speakers include the Rev. Thomas J. Fitzgerald, executive director, and Rev. G. F. Ballweber, pastor of St. Mary's, Buffalo Grove, district adviser.

ACCW is currently engaged in a number of spiritual works, intellectual pursuits, charitable projects and civic and community endeavors.

Natural Water Course Source Of Pond On Jack Deynzer Farm

Jack and Arion Deynzer are using advertising space in this issue in explanation of the condition on their property where two boys lost their lives last year in a pond.

The soucre of that water, in the forest preserve, is a mile distant. The creek enters the Deynzer property through a 3x7 ft. culvert beneath Quintens rd. The natural course of this creek became obstructed 25 years ago by the construction of an embankment for the Palatine, Lake Zurich and Wauconda railroad.

The owners in their open letter invite any person to visit the scene and see for themselves the problem that would confront engineers if any attempt is made to fill in the "pond" which would obstruct the natural water course. It would result in the flooding of a large part of the Deynzer and adjoining farms.

In an effort to confine the creek to its original banks, channels have been cut by a number of property owners. Drainage operations and subdividing of former farm lands have increased the creek flow and deepened its course as much as seven feet.

The Deynzers, by the erection of fences and no trespassing signs, thought they had protected the slough and pond from the public. They are today faced with a suit which will require hiring of attorneys and other expense.

Noted Cellist Next Artist On Concert Program

The third concert in the 1952-53 Arlington Heights Community concert series will be held at Arlington Heights high school, Sunday evening, February 1, at 8:15 p.m.

February 1 and March 1 (the fourth concert) are outstanding dates in community concert presentations, for February 1 the membership will have the opportunity of hearing Leonard Rose, one of the outstanding cellists in the world today, and March 1 the Gershwin Festival, with a 25-piece orchestra and three soloists.

LEONARD ROSE embarked on his solo career in 1951 after seven years as solo cellist with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony. Bruno Walter, Dimitri Mitropoulos and George Szell, three distiguished conductors, consider Rose the finest they have ever worked with, possessing all the qualities that make a great artist.

Rose was born in Washington, D. C., July 26, 1918. He moved with his family ot Florida where he studied cello with Walter Grossman. At 14, he gave recitals throughout Florida.

In the fall of 1938, Arturo Toscanini engaged Rose as a cellist in the NBC Symphony. He later joined the New York Philharmonic Symphony. His last appearance as a member of the orchestra was as soloist in a concert at the Edinburgh Festival in the summer of 1951. He then began his solo career, which has built to great heights, in number of engagements and in the profound impression he has made as an artist on cities and audiences.

Lessons In.... English

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "Shelves were placed on either side of the room." Say, "on each side," or, "on both sides."

Distinguish between "carton" (pasteboard, as for boxes) and "cartoon" (a pictorial sketch).

Do not say, "You will like it better than you think for." Omit "for."

Avoid using the incorrect form "theirselves" for "themselves."

Do not say, "Any one of these boys are capable." Say, "is capable." "One" is the singular subject.

Do not say, "I don't know but that I made a mistake." Say, "I may have made a mistake."

Words Often Mispronounced

Paraffin. Pronounce the last syllable as fin. not as feen.

Pate de foie gras (a paste of fattened goose liver). Pronounce pa-ta-de-fwa-gra, first third and final a's as in ah, second a as in ate, e as in me unstressed, principal accent on second syllable.

Natatorial. Pronounce na-ta-to-ri-al, first a as in day, second a as in ah unstressed, o as in no, accent third syllable.

Italian. Pronounce i-tal-yan, in three syllables, the i as in it, not as in light.

Bass (a musical term and also a fish). In music the a is pronounced as in ace. In fishing the a is pronounced as in at.

Words Often Misspelled

Superintendent; ent, not ant. Supervise, ise; summarize, ize. Severally (separately); severely (strictly). Alimentary (pertaining to nutrition); elementary (pertaining to elements). Costume dress); custom (usage). The plural of "sheaf" is "sheaves," while the plural of "chief" is "chiefs."

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Evacuate; to free or clear (a place), as of inhabitants. "The city was not evacuated until defeat became imminent."

Labyrinth; an inextricable or bewildering state of things; a maze. "We were confronted by a labyrinth of facts and figures."

Significance; meaning or import. "His words bore a peculiar significance."

Appease; to make quiet; to calm; to reduce to a state of peace. "They endeavored to appease his anger."

Cessation; act of ceasing; a stop. "The cessation of the storm was only temporary."

Appertain; to belong or pertain, as by right, nature, or custom. "Things that appertain to this life must be studied carefully."

Seeks Funds To Complete Resurrection Hospital

During January Catholic parishes of northwest Chicago and its suburban area are raising a minimum of $300,000 toward completion of the new Resurrection hospital on Talcott rd. near Harlem.

This announcement was made this week by His Eminance Cardinal Stritch, honorary chairman of Resurrection's completion fund campaign.

Stressing that Resurrection is "a non-profit hospital, serving everyone regardless of color, creed, or circumstance," Cardinal Stritch emphasized that Catholics of the area were supporting the project on a community basis.

Confirming the Cardinal's statement, a check of State Health department reports reevals that there are 281,000 people in the northwest section where no hospital facilities presently exist, excepting the 75 per cent complete Resurrection.

Completion fund officials said construction of the new Resurrection continues with the hope that the $500,000 minimum necessary for equipping, furnishing, and operating the hospital will soon be realized. Preparations for the solicitating of business and industry of the area are proceeding under the chairmanship of Irving T. Gillick of Park Ridge.

Included in parish representation from the Resurrection hospital area are: Rev. H. T. O'Hara, Our Lady of the Wayside, Arlington Heights; Rev. George J. Stier, St. James, Arlington Heights, and Rev. T. O'Brien, St. Raymond De Penafort, Mount Prospect.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That error of every name and nature disappears before the dominion and power of right thinking, which has its source in the divine Mind, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 25. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be TRUTH.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (89:8, 14) "O Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee? . . . Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"Continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them . . . All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, throughly furnished unto all good works" (11 Tim. 3:14, 16, 17).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained . . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith . . . The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood" (pp. 547, 272).

English Experiment With Coal Pipelines

The English plan to build experimental coal pipelines from mines to power stations in the Midlands, and the scheme, if economical, will lead to the construction of a 100-mile pipeline from the Midlands to London to carry 5 million tons of coal a year for power stations.

The Facts

There is a large creek that comes into our property which flows into our slough pond. This creek starts a mile away, up by Kelley's hill. The drainage from farms and other property, some as far as Deer Grove, drains into this creek along the way on both sides. These properties are drained, some by tile and others by ditch into this creek before it flows into our farm.

Where the creek runs under Quintens Road there is a concrete culvert 3 ft. wide by 7 ft. high. Entering our farm from that point the creek bed, which is never dry, widens to 30 ft. and is 10 ft. deep, and the creek travels approximately 600 ft. further on to the slough pond. We have a bridge over this creek farther down on the property so that we can drive over into the back field. In Spring it spreads over about 4 square blocks.

It was suggested by John Nelson that this pond be drained, but with the afore-mentioned conditions it is the most impossible thing imaginable to do. We would appreciate having anyone interested come out to Quintens Road and see for themselves the problem with which we are confronted.

The property owners draining into this creek have their land clear of water but we have lost many acres due to this condition.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

Someone has recently suggested that I should write a book about churches and their money. Among those who are not as close to their churches as they might be, there are times when they wonder what happens to "all the money" that churches get. I suppose the church that I am related to does not differ much from any other church; so I will attempt to suggest part of what happens to our money.

If our building did nothing but stand here on its location and be available for worship—lighted, heated, cleaned, painted—it would require about ten to fifteen cents out of every dollar we receive. This does not include any music for worship, no bulletins for the worship service, nor any preacher. This is just to keep the building where it has always been, and to keep it in good condition.

For every person who comes to a worship service, it has cost the church about ten cents in administrative promotion. A bulletin is placed in their hands; cards are sent to the ushers who place that bulletin; receipts are mailed for the contributions the ushers receive at the offering; materials are mailed from time to time to encourage the congregation to attend either more regularly or to attend some special service.

Our church is Presbyterian, and the Presbyterian church has an extremely capable program for the church school. It includes magazines for teachers and parents and books for each child. About five dollars per child each year make these books and magazines available. It is worth it, as several thousand non-Presbyterian churches in about twenty other denominations can affirm, for they also use our materials.

In travel and telephone allowances to the pastor, our church spends about half a dollar for ever pastoral call that is made during the course of a year. This, of course, does not cover his expenses. Few men in the ministry spend less than a thousand dollars a year in professional expenses. None of them is complaining, so far as I know, but it should be recognized that all the funds that go into the work of a church are not seen on the offering plates.

Depending on the size of the church structure, some of these percentages would vary. Depending on the size and affluence of the congregation, there would be some differences in the salary figures. Forty to sixty per cent of every dollar probably goes into salaries, for pastor, musical direction, secretarial services, and additional pastoral service.

That leaves ten to thirty per cent of the average church budget for benevolence causes. The ideal of giving for the world mission of the church is, of course, half and half—"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

Every church of which I have any knowledge publishes financial statements annually at the least. Every item can readily be substantiated. The serious churchman who looks at a church financial statement is far from asking, "What happens to all the money?" Rather, he marvels that so much is done with so little.

Form Business Women's Circle

The new Business Women's Evening circle which has been organized by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights will hold its first meeting January 28 at the home of Miss Barbara Roth, 1007 N. Mitchell.

Chairman of the new circle is Miss Ethel Swanson, with Miss Roth as co-chairman. Mrs. Victor Brown will serve as Bible leader.

Designed with their common interests in mind, the circle is open to all women, single or married, who cannot attend afternoon circle meetings because they are employed. The meetings will follow the same program and Bible lessons as the other circles.

All interested women are invited to attend. Anyone who has not been contacted personally may call Miss Swanson, CLearbrook 3-3701, for further information.

Cook County Health Association To Attend Annual Meeting

The Cook County Health Improvement Association is one of 70 Illinois counties represented at the third annual meeting of the Health Improvement Associations in Illinois, which is being held at the Orlando hotel in Decatur Thursday and Friday, January 15 and 16, according to H. P. Ash of Harristown, president of the state association of HIA's.

George DeVries of Evergreen Park, president of the Cook County HIA, is also serving on the nomination committee at the conference. Edward Guenthur Jr., is also attending the conference.

The two-day session is being held to discuss health projects which have been conducted by this County Health Improvement Association and other county HIA's. Future programs for better health in this county and other counties which have organized HIA's and the coordination of health care programs leading toward improved health conditions throughout the state are other topics to be studied.

Presbyterian Church Circles To Meet

Circles of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights will hold their regular monthly meetings January 28 at 1:15 p.m. beginning with a dessert luncheon.

Bible leaders in each of the eight circles will continue the study of "Famous Women of the Bible" by Clarence McCartney. The chapter for this month is entitled "Two Women of Bethany," and is about Mary and Martha.

Because this is stewardship month, the stewardship chairman (the treasurer) of each circle will lead a discussion stressing each woman's part in the work of the church. The meeting will be used as a dedication of what each promises and plans to do for the coming year.

Circle 1 will be guests at the home of Mrs. Curtis Roberts, 46 S. Ridge, with Mrs. Ira Prouty as co-hostess. Chairman and co-chairman of this circle are Mrs. T. L. Archibald and Mrs. Prouty. Mrs. Burton Butler, 506 Eastwood rd., Mount Prospect, will be hostess to circle 2, with Mrs. Gordon Gullickson as co-hostess. This circle is under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Munson and Mrs. V. O. Bernthal.

The chairman of circle 3, Mrs. Howard Froyd, 234 S. Mitchell, will be hostess to her circle with the co-chairman, Mrs. Wendell Prunty, as co-hostess. Circle 4 will also meet at the home of its chairman, Mrs. N. Clinton Lyman, 930 S. Dunton. Mrs. Max Galarza, co-chairman, will be co-hostess. Mrs. Harold Peter, 415 N. Belmont ave., chairman of circle 5, will entertain her circle with her co-chairman, Mrs. Fred Martin, as co-hostess.

The three evening circles will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. Officers of these circles will be installed and members will see a repeat performance of the skit given at the January association meeting. Circle 6 will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward Carlisle, 1006 S. Vail. Co-hostess will be the chairman of the circle, Mrs. E. F. Thompson. Mrs. Robert Hutchings is co-chairman.

Mrs. R. E. Kellogg, 626 W. Campbell, will be hostess for circle 7, with the chairman and co-chairman, Mrs. John McComb and Mrs. Edwin Tierney, as co-hostesses.

The newly organized Business Women's circle, number 8, will meet at the home of Miss Barbara Roth, co-chairman, 1007 N. Mitchell, with chairman, Miss Ethel Swanson, as co-hostess.

Insurance Rates Cut By Fire Districts

R. M. Beatty, of the insurance firm of W. A. Alexander and Co., has informed his clients that a recent reclassification of fire protection districts will reduce fire insurance rates anywhere from 6% to 25% in various areas. Mr. Beatty, who resides at 701 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, was instrumental in securing the reclassification at this time. The bulletin announcing the change issued from the Alexander office reads in part as follows:

"The Cook County Inspection Bureau has changed the classification of various fire protection districts in Cook county, from class 10 to class 9 or class 8 as indicated below:

District	Class
North Arlington	9
Mount Prospect	9
Hawthorne-Rand	8
Elk Grove	9
North Maine	9
South Maine	9

"This makes a reduction on dwellings and contents from 2 to 3 cents where the class is reduced from 10 to 9 and from 13 to 15 cents where the class is reduced from 10 to 8. He says:

"Rebates are not permissible for change in fire protection and existing policies may be cancelled pro rata to be written in the same company for not less than the original amount, and not less than the original term, or may be written for not less than the original amount and for a period of not less than one year beyond the expiration of the cancelled policy."

Mount Prospect and Elk Grove districts which are tax supported cover the area that was formerly served by Mount Prospect Fire Protection league. North Arlington district is the latest to be organized. It includes subdivision areas north of Arlington. The two Maine districts join the village of Des Plaines.

Illustrated Lecture On First Sanctuary At St. Paul School Sunday

REV. EISSFELDT

Rev. Walter A. Eissfeldt, pastor of St. John Lutheran church, Buckley, Ill., will present a lecture on the first sanctuary of Jehovah at St. Paul Lutheran school, Mt. Prospect, at 7 p. m., Sunday.

The lecture, sponsored by the Lutheran Mission Crusaders, will be illustrated with a scale model of the Old Testament tabernacle, which was constructed by Rev. Eissfeldt. It shows the building, its furniture, priesthood, sacrificial subjects and outer court, all constructed on the scale of one inch to the "cubit" measure.

No admission will be charged and the public is invited to attend. (B4

Dorcas Aid To Hold Birthday Dinner

The Dorcas Aid society of St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will hold its annual birthday dinner January 23, at 6:30 p. m.

Members are invited to bring their husband or friend as guests to the dinner. It will take place in the new dining hall.

Entertainment will be furnished, and cards will be played.

Entertain At Luncheon

Students in Miss Mary Handlin's afternoon Homemaking class, were hostesses to five parents and several teachers Tuesday, January 13, at a luncheon which the students had prepared from start to finish.

The luncheon was served in the classroom, which consists of six adjoining kitchens with plenty of work space. The meal consisted of a meaty casserole dish, hot biscuits, salad, tea, and cherry crisp.

The class is divided into six "families" and each group prepared its own meal and entertained its own guests. Parents, teachers, and students appeared to enjoy the entire affair, which will be repeated in the near future in order to provide another opportunity for invitations to parents who were unable to attend last week.

J. H. Eissler

Funeral services for J. H. Eissler, 79, who resided in the Long Grove area all of his life were held at the home of his sister, Miss Kate Eissler Sunday. Interment was in Knoph cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Schreiber, pastor of United Brethren Evangelical church of Prairie Piew.

Reservations For Puppet Opera

Because of the limited number of tickets available, members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club who are planning to attend the puppet opera and smorgasbord lunch at the Kungsholm April 15 with the music and literature and drama groups, are urged to make reservations immediately.

Reservations for this occasion must be submitted by February 1 in order to assure sufficient accommodations for the group. Interested club members are therefore requested to telephone at once to the chairman of either group — Mrs. Donald Thompson (literature and drama), CL. 3-5235, or Mrs. Gale Blocki Jr., (music), CL. 3-3758.

Tickets for the smorgasbord lunch, including the puppet opera, are $3 each, plus tax and tip.

Mr. Walter Kirchhoff
Kirchhoff Insurance Agency
33 South Main Street
Mt. Prospect, Illinois

Dear Wally:

On February 2nd - I'll be back in business in a new, better-than-ever store. This is a day I wasn't sure I would ever see as I stood in the midst of the smouldering ruins of my store on that terrible "morning after" - on November 11th.

I am very thankful that I had the good sense to place the complete job of insurance adjustment in the hands of a local agent who had my interest at heart. My word of "thanks" seems very hollow when I think of the many hours you have spent in my behalf in handling the countless details with insurance companies, adjusters, salvagers, contractors and carpenters.

Not only did you handle every single detail involving scores of people and thousands of dollars, but I think you must have set a record, Wally, in helping to get my new store ready in such a short time! As I recall, it was by noon of the day following the fire that you had the contracts all drawn and ready to sign to start work on the new store!

They say that out of every bad something good results. Actually, two "goods" resulted from this experience. First, more than ever, I am completely sold on the value of adequate insurance coverage. And, secondly, I found there is no substitute for the personalized attention you can and do offer to your insureds. You can be sure that you may put me on the list of "satisfied customers" of the Kirchhoff Insurance Agency!

Sincerely yours,
Fred Meeske

Wilson Community

In Hospital

George Parsons, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons of Evanston was stricken with polio last week and is in Evanston hospital. According to the latest report, no paralysis has set in, and it is hoped that it will be a mild case. His parents wish to thank the people of this district for their concern and prayers. Mr. Parsons is principal of the Wilson school.

New Arrival

Cpl. and Mrs. Donald Barody of Rand rd. are parents of a baby girl, named Margaret Ann, born January 15 at the Highwood hospital. Mrs. Barody and her six pound daughter have been transferred to Great Lakes hospital. Cpl. Barody is now stationed in a port of embarkation in New Jersey. The are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moskal. baby's maternal grandparents

The children of the Wilson school witnessed the inauguration of President Eisenhower over television, through the courtesy of Harold Best who installed the set.

Scouts Meet

Girl Scouts and Brownies of this district will hold their next meeting January 22 at 7 p. m. at the school instead of Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Frank Moskal and Mrs. George Flenner are the leaders for these groups, and report that the attendance has been very small, and there is a lack of interest on the part of the parents. This evening meeting is a final effort on the part of the leaders to stimulate interest in these projects. All mothers are invited to come and bring their daughters.

The program committee of the PTA met at the home of Mrs. Russel Carlson last Tuesday to discuss plans for a Founder's day skit.

Mrs. Fred Bista Sr. of Rand rd. has opened a nursery in her home to take care of children up to five years of age. The entire first floor of her home has been converted into a nursery, complete with toys, doll house, cribs, television room, etc. Mrs. Bista is licensed by the state, and is also a registered practical nurse. This service in the neighborhood solves a big problem for working mothers.

New Residents

Lt. Commander Harry J. Dodge and family, formerly of Sollamons, Md., are now at home at 432 Bob O' Link rd. The Dodges have three children, Jimmy, 6; Donna, 4, and Tommy, who is 2. Lt. Commander Dodge is stationed at Glenview. This is the family's first trip into the middle west. They have been stationed all along the east and west coasts. They are looking forward to some out of door sports, such as ice skating, and skiing which both Mr. and Mrs. Dodge enjoy.

Women To Meet

The next Prospect Meadows woman's meeting will be held January 28, at the Arlington Heights field house at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Donald Carey is home now recuperating after another stay at Evanston hospital.

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. John Crise of 629 Larkdale lane are parents of a baby girl, Susan Mary. The baby was born December 21 and weighed 9 pounds 12 ounces. Mrs. Thomas Meigel had a baby shower for Susan January 17.

MRS. JOS. REMSING — Ph. VAnderbilt 4-8853

Forest River

The 1953 license applications and notary public stamps are available at the home of Mrs. Jos. Remsing Sr. on Brookfield ave. For a small additional charge, license plates can be had in 24 hours.

The results of the auxiliary elections are not surprising, as in the past a lot of enthusiasm is worked up on who should be in office and when the time of elections is here, all those who are so anxious for a change are conspicuous by their absence. Those who attended the January meeting made a unanimous nomination of Mrs. Jos. Remsing Sr. for re-election, elected Mrs. Jule Miske Sr. as vice-president, Mrs. Paul Kleeman re-elected as treasurer and Mrs. James Brewer to serve as temporary secretay. The installation of officers will follow a pot luck luncheon on February 11 at the Community house.

The regular open social scheduled for January 28 will be held at night and the entire proceeds plus whatever donations can be raised will be sent to the Polio foundation. The aim is to send $100. as the Forest River quota. Donations of cakes and gifts will be greatly appreciated, and cooperation as to support financially is urgently needed.

Mrs. Rose Ross would like to extend her thanks to all the wonderful friends and neighbors who remembered her so nicely at Christmas with the many, many cards, flowers and gifts. Rose says as soon as she feels able she would like to send each one a thank you note, but for the time being she will take this way of expressing her appreciation.

A group of young folks gathered at the home of the Villadons last Friday evening and had as guest of honor, George Korn, who is leaving January 23 to serve his hitch in Uncle Sam's army. He received his greetings the early part of the month.

Mrs. Bea Kramer was taken to the Cook County Contagious Disease hospital last Saturday afternoon in serious condition with diphtheria. Her family is quarantined at home.

The Girl Scouts had their first candlelight ceremony last Friday at the PTA meeting. The girls received badges for various subjects. Second class were Patsy Zapatka, Elaine Hansen, Judy Dziwota, Kathy Swiatowy, Janet Sandquist, Margaret Kirste, Marlene Olson, Lois Vetrano and Joby Badalamenti. Marlene Olson, oJby Badalamenti and Malvina (Jackie) Alexander received their cooking and sewing badges. Kay Phar received her photography badge. Margie Suhren received her sewing badge. The badges were assigned by the various women who are responsible for having scouts in the locality. Mrs. Adam Grenda is chairman of the scout committee, Mrs. Arthur Hansen is scout leader, and Mrs. Hjalmar Sandquist is assistant leader. The leaders are planning on taking their troop to visit an animal hospital to familiarize the girls with the care and first aid to animals. This way the girls will be eligible for another badge of merit.

Plans are also being started for a community bazaar to be held at the Community house next fall. Mrs. Granda has made the announcement at the PTA meeting and would like to know who would be interested in taking part in this project. The Scouts are to have a booth of their handiwork, also the PTA, the Ladies auxiliary and any other group that would care to be included. There will be an apron booth, a bakery booth, stuffed toy booth, a candy booth, a gift booth and perhaps others. Donations from those who cannot take an active part in the assembling of this project of any sort of yard goods, feed bags, yarn, thread, ribbons, needles, etc. would be appreciated. Also, ladies, if you have no use for those runny nylons, please save and send them to either Mrs. Grenda or Mrs. Remsing, as they can find dozens of uses for them.

The 1953 Wheeling township vehicle stickers are ready and waiting for those who want them at the home of the Sr. Remsings.

Mrs. James Carroll Sr., of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion of Des Plaines, in her capacity as the Americanism chairman, has presented both the Girl Scouts and the Brownies with an American flag. The girls are quite proud of their flags and are eagerly awaiting for Decoration day when they will all march carrying their flag.

Paul Campbell left for training with the armed forces on Friday.

Baseball Coaching Clinic Saturday At Navy Pier In Chicago

Final plans have been completed for the baseball coaching clinic of the Chicago undergraduate division of the University of Illinois to be held at Navy Pier January 24.

Nine courses have been set-up to "help promote amateur baseball in the Chicago area." The purpose of the clinic is to give coaches the opportunity to improve their technical knowledge of the game, and to learn how to teach the fundamentals better.

Leading the list of instructors for the clinic is "Rip" Collins, former gashouse gang first baseman. "Rip" will teach two courses in "Batting and Bunting," and "Base Running and Base Coaching."

Rounding out the program will be Lee Eilbracht, baseball coach of the University of Illinois, Urbana. Lee will teach two courses in "catching" and 'team strategy."

Registration for the clinic is at 9 a. m. and the program will last all day. All classes will be held in the men's gym adjacent to the Pier.

Barrington Speed Routs Hawks, 66 to 41

The Barrington Bombers' superior speed and marksmanship riddled Wheeling's defense last week Tuesday, as the Bombers won their second straight North Shore league contest. On the other hand, it was the Blackhawks' second straight league loss.

Barrington's Fred Cochran and Liebert composed the Bombers' one-two punch. Cochran, showing the form that won him all-conference honors at Barrington high last year, scored 17 points on seven field goals and three charity throws. Liebert was runner-up with 14 markers. Wheeling's George Newman continued his fine performance on the floor, and paced the losers with 13 points.

All Records Surpassed For ABC Tournament

The "Golden Jubilee" tournament of the American Bowling Congress, which opens in the Chicago Coliseum on February 21, is now assured of being the ABC's greatest tournament from a standpoint of entries and prize money.

Frank K. Baker, ABC secretary, announced January 13, three days after the close of entries, that a check of figures at the tournament office here revealed 8,089 teams; 14,207 doubles; 28,487 singles and 22,982 all-events entries on the books. Every one of the marks is a new record.

Tournament Director Charlie Treuter announced at the same time that the more than 40,000 bowlers entered will be rolling for a prize fund which will exceed $550,000. The highest previous prize fund was the $455,940 distributed at the conclusion of the 1952 ABC in Milwaukee.

Sports Show In City

The 14th annual sports, outdoor and travel show, Chicago's only exposition of its kind this year, is developing a major sports motif, and during the 10 day affair in the Internation Amphitheatre, February 20 thru March 1, visitors will be able to participate or watch competition in every major sport in the book.

There will be competitive horse racing on a newly designed, banked track; there will be trap shooting, archery, golf, baseball, football, trout fishing, casting, basketball, and even horseshoe pitching.

Olympic Champ

Floyd Paterson, Olympic champion middleweight slugger, takes on Chester Mieszala, the Chicago slugger, in a six round bout at the Chicago Stadium January 28. The Paterson-Mieszala six rounder will be televised with the 10 round main event between Luther Rawlings and Orlando Zulueta blacked out.

The beaming lady is Mrs. Malcolm Lund, Arlington Heights, who is admiring her seven foot, one inch, 48 pound sailfish she recently caught in the Atlantic, a few miles off the Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., bathing beach. It took her 45 minutes to land the big spindlesnoot. The larger of the three smaller fish pictured, was caught by Mr. Lund. The other two were caught by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staples, Northbrook, who were also in the party. The city of Ft. Lauderdale presented Mrs. Lund with a citation for her catch.

'Fouls Unlimited' Rule Proves A Dud In Holiday Tournaments

From all reports, "Fouls unlimited" has drawn criticism from most Illinois high school coaches who saw their players perform under the experimental rule in the recent holiday basketball tournaments. For the most part, coaches and sports writers said they felt the rule made a farce of the game and resulted in a continual parade to the free throw line.

Under the experiment, conducted by the Illinois high school association, a player was allowed to remain in the game even after he had committed five personal fouls, the usual disqualifying number.

Each foul beyond the fourth was termed a technical and the shooting team was given the ball out of bounds after the attempted free throw, whether it was made or missed.

PROBABLY the weirdest result of the rule occurred in the tourney at DeKalb, where nearby Highland Park was one of the contestants. During the first round game between Kirkland and Sycamore, won 62-55 by Kirkland, 28 fouls were assessed against three Kirkland cagers. They were allowed to remain in play and registered 57 of their team's points.

In the East St. Louis tournament, we're told, Mount Pulaski scored a 70-57 upset victory over Gillespie largely with the aid of the "Fouls unlimited" regulation. Mount Pulaski had 61 free throws and sank 40 of them.

IN THE 16 TEAM meet at Centralia, the opening round produced 371 fouls for eight games. Seventeen players committed five fouls or more, three players had eight apiece. During the second round, which was conducted under present rules, 355 fouls were called and 27 players were sidelined after their fifth foul.

All in all, the test was something of a "dud," with most tourney observers reporting that fans did not seem to like the "Unlimited foul" innovation and that the players were not cautious at all in guarding opponents.

LaGrange Sophs Whip Bards

by ED BERNDT

Combining a strong second half attack with a few "breaks," the LaGrange frosh-sophs walloped Glenbard, 58-35, Friday.

Sparked by Frank Caiazza, who scored 19 points, and Lee Meyer who got 15, the Cubs came back from an 11-8 first quarter deficit, worked to a 20-20 tie at halftime and ran away in the second half.

GLENBARD was hampered by the fouling out of Fred Hein in the first half and Ed Morgan's bad ankle. Morgan saw only limited service.

The game started slowly with each team unable to move the ball. Steve Thompson took the opening jump and drove in for a quick basket. This was the only scoring for three minutes.

Then Frank Caiazza sank a brace of free throws to tie it up at 2-all. Bob Edwards got six for Glenbard and Caiazza five for LaGrange.

The second quarter started with Glenbard pulling away to a 17-9 lead. However, the Cubs roared back and tied it up at the half, 20-all.

LaGRANGE took advantage of the weakened Bards and ran all over them the second half. Caiazza got 13 points in this half and Lee Meyer eight points.

Glenbard was outscored this half, 38-15. Bob Edwards played another fine game and scored 13 points to pace the Ponies.

Nominations At Record High For 'Twin' Chgo. Tracks

America's leading stables, representing 290 owners from 30 states, Washington, D. C., and Canada, have smashed all nominations records for six future stakes scheduled in 1953 at Arlington Park and Washington Park.

Executive Director Benjamin F. Lindheimer of the "twin" Chicago tracks announced the impressive total of 1,928 nominations to the six events, nucleus of the world's richest summer racing.

The figure exceeded last year's record for the same races by 147, a powerful testimonial of horsemen's enthusiasm for the coordinated Arlington-Washington program.

THE SIX early-closing events form the base of a complete stakes schedule which will be announced soon and which will offer in excess of $1,100,000 in added money alone — another thoroughbred racing record.

The "big six" are the $100,000 added Washington Park Handicap; the $100,000 Arlington Classic for three-year-olds; the $75,000 added Arlington and Washington Park Futurities, and the $50,000 added Arlington Lassie and Princess Pat Stakes for two-year-old fillies.

Second payments are due at midnight, February 2.

HEADING THE nominations roster were the 441 thoroughbreds named to the Washington Park Futurity, with its Arlington counterpart attracting 440. Each was increased in value for 1953 by Lindheimer.

The heavy response to the rich events is expected to swell the gross value of Futurity to $145,000, with the winner earning approximately $90,000. Second place will be worth $30,000, with $15,000 going to the third horse and $10,000 to fourth — the same awards established by Lindheimer for the Washington Park Handicap and Arlington Classic.

POSSIBLE STATE CHAMP LAGRANGE AT ARLINGTON FRIDAY

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

PALATINE WILL BE HOST to the main spring sports events in the Northwest conference this year. The frosh-soph track meet will be held on Ost Field May 13 and the varsity May 20. The golf tournament is scheduled for Monday, May 25, at Inverness golf club on Roselle road just west of Palatine.

Palatine has won varsity golf the past five years in a row, golf the past three seasons and frosh-soph track the two years a league meet has been held.

There appears to be little reason why Palatine will not continue on top in these sports.

IF ANTIOCH WINS the Northwest conference basketball championship this season it will be the first time since 1932, a period of 22 years. Grant, Wauconda, and Northbrook have never won a varsity basketball championship.

Only Palatine and Barrington have ever won doubles, varsity and frosh-soph the same year, in the Northwest conference. They each turned the trick on four occasions.

Palatine's first was in the 1933-34 season under Carl Megel who is now national president of the teachers union of the American Federation of Labor.

Palatine's other three doubles came in 1940-43 with the writer of this column varsity and frosh-soph coach in 1940-42 and varsity coach in 1943 while Earl Stutzman handled the frosh-sophs. Barrington's doubles came in the years 1948-52 under Les Harmon, varsity coach, and Harold Gaffney, frosh-soph mentor.

HIGHEST SCORING IN THIS AREA for a single game is the 44 points piled up by Dick Holt, Crystal Lake center, against Hebron last Saturday night. Crystal Lake scored 41 points in the final 10 minutes after big six foot 11 inch Bill Shultz of Hebron fouled out along with Wilbrandt and Ihrke, regular forwards.

That takes a bit away from Holt's performance but the big boy has been setting a 24-a-game pace in North Suburban competition. Holt is a brother of the Crystal Lake center who set a scoring record back in the days of the now defunct Northeast conference.

The freshman tournament in the Northwest conference will be held at Grayslake starting Monday, March 9, the week of the sectional tournament. At this writing, Ela-Vernon appears to be the outstanding first year team in the circuit, but March is a long way off and the conference teams are quite evenly matched. Antioch ran away with last year's tournament.

LEYDEN HAS PLAYED very few basketball games at home in the last five years due to the fact that so many opponents among the big schools refuse to play on their tiny court. At that the teams coached by George Cox have won 75 while losing 48.

THE HOLIDAY TOURNAMENT experiment of allowing players to remain in the game after being charged with five personal fouls was a failure, according to the office of the executive secretary of the Illinois high school association.

The plan which called for two free throws on all fouls over four charged to a player, plus giving the opposition the ball out of bounds was condemned quite generally by school authorities who watched the 25 tournaments where the rule was tried.

THE PLATOON SYSTEM in football made possible by an unlimited substitution rule is out as far as colleges are concerned. For this next year at least the high schools will keep the rule. As far as we can see, the only important reason for the unlimited substitution rule is that it gives more boys a chance for participation and that is a very sound argument from an educational standpoint. It has meant that the benefits of a sports program are extended to more boys.

That is about as far as the advantages go unless you consider the one that it takes less coaching to field an average team because you can use the big, stupid boys on defense who cannot learn the signals.

A high school coach commented to us that at least a half dozen players on his squad won letters who could not learn signals because he could use them just on defense. A chance for a specialist, such as Tony Leonard of Grant, who kicked all the extra points attempted for the season, would be out under the new ruling which probably will come to the high school grid game a year hence.

There is no basis for the argument that the substitution rule was a safety measure for there have been just as many injuries due to boys going into a game cold as from excessive fatigue caused by playing a whole game without relief.

Under the new rule fans and sports writers may be able to know who is playing. Coaches have changed players so rapidly they are mere chess men shifting around, their identity unknown unless they are star offensive performers. The defensive player is an unknown whose name is not listed in the lineup reserved for those who score the points or do the blocking. Training has become much less important under the platoon system for no one plays more than a few minutes without a rest.

Pirates Host To Grayslake And Leyden This Week

Palatine's home schedule gets heavy this weekend with basketball games on both Friday and Saturday night. Grayslake's Rams come to town Friday for Northwest conference games in which Palatine teams should rate favorites and Saturday the strongest team on the Pirate schedule, Leyden's Eagles, will play in the Palatine gym.

Interest in Friday's game outside of the fact that Palatine must keep on winning to have any chance at the championship will be the scoring duel between John Hook of visitors and Palatine's Paul Schrage.

Hook took the scoring lead at the midpoint in the schedule Friday night by pouring in 28 points at Lake Zurich where his team lost a 66-65 heart breaker.

Schrage played only part time against Wauconda and his 12 points left him second with 103 counters in six games. Palatine aims to cut the point production of little five foot six John Hook Friday when he tries to maintain his lead on the cramped Palatine court.

THE GRAYSLAKE game at Palatine was shifted from November in hopes of playing it in the new gym but it looks now like all of Palatine's home games will be played on the old 38-70 court. Actually Palatine's present team has a better chance on a small floor but that has had nothing to do with the slowness in getting the new gym completed.

Leyden, coming to Palatine Saturday, was winner of the 16 team DeKalb holiday tournament and is currently a leading contender for second place in the South Suburban League. Last weekend Leyden whipped Blue Island, 61-55, and Bloom of Chicago Heights, 46-45. Palatine's small court should be no puzzle to the rangy Leyden five as they have a home floor just as cramped as the Palatine quarters.

BENSENVILLE MOVED into a tie for fourth place with Grayslake and Grant as a result of winning their last two games after four defeats. Friday they take on strong Ela-Vernon at Lake Zurich, holder of a 4-2 record.

In their first meeting Ela won a close high scoring game and the improved Bisons may take this one if they can hold in check Ela's scoring aces Dee Busch and Frank Cole.

Bensenville's problem all season has been one of defense for Dick Syzmonik, Bert Heuer and Billy Long have provided plenty of scoring for a winning season.

GRANT WILL try to improve their position after four straight defeats and get into the victory column against hapless Wauconda. A home court advantage will not be enough it appears for the Wauconda Bulldogs appear to be just as weak as last year's Northbrook Vikings when it comes to scoring though they are better on defense.

Coach Sciaaca's team is going to be very lucky if they get a victory in the conference this season. Friday's game might be one of their few chances, but Grant's strong showing, 62-55, in losing to Antioch would seem to make the chance a very slim one.

Paddock Champs vs Paddock Champs Saturday At 8

It will be men versus women Saturday night in a special match on the Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes when Black's Funeral Home keglers, winners of the men's division in the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap January 4, oppose Emerald Shop five, winners of the women's tournament January 11.

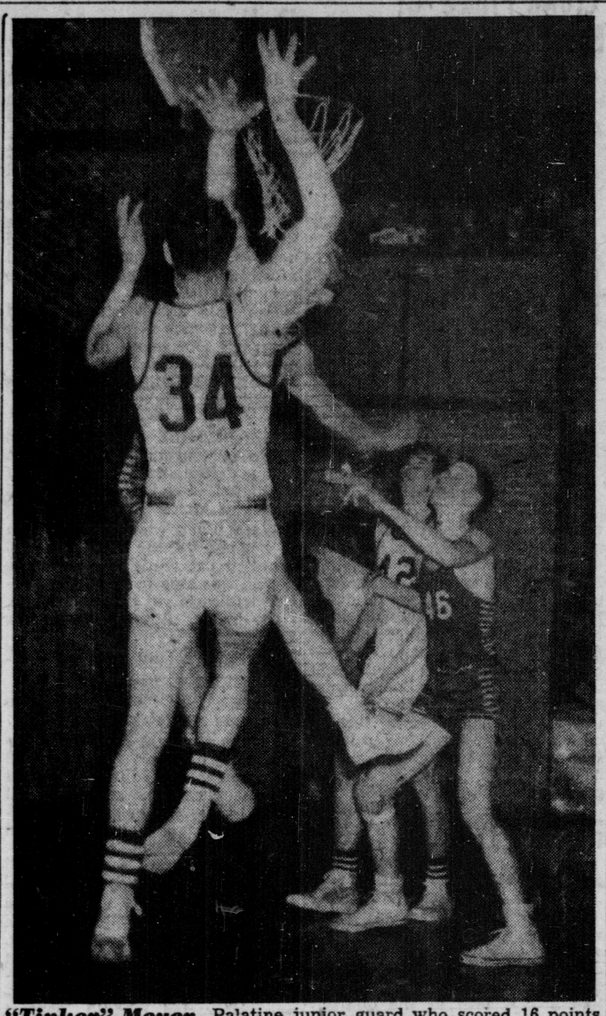

The men, representing the local Lions club league, rolled 124 pins per game over their average to take the Paddock trophy. The women rolled along just about at average speed to take the women's award one week later.

JUST WHETHER the women, who boast a 736 average, will spot the men, who sport a 718 average, enough pins to make up the difference is not known at this writing.

Both leagues bowl Tuesday nights at Heights and should roll equally well on their home alleys. Of course, some wags assert if the women win, the men let 'em; if they lose, well, naturally.

At any rate the match is certain to stir plenty of interest in bowling fans of this area, starting at 8 p. m. Saturday night, January 24.

"Tinker" Meyer, Palatine junior guard who scored 16 points as Palatine whipped Wauconda Friday night, 65-44, is shown sinking a short side shot while team mate John Busch (42) and opposing center, Tom Nolan (46) of Wauconda get set for a possible rebound. Bob Hecht is trying to block Meyer's shot.

Heights Frosh Beat Leyden And Downers

Two more schools fell by the wayside, victims of Arlington's freshman basketball squad over the weekend, Leyden bowing, 52-48 and Downers Grove giving way, 56-50. This makes six in a row for Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's youngsters and partly offsets the sorrow fans have been feeling while watching the varsity lose all league contests.

Saturday morning in a well played game the Heights five defeated Leyden in the cracker box gym at Franklin Park in a contest that was close all the way. Leyden led in the first quarter, 12-10, was tied at the half, 24-all. The hosts again took the lead in the third segment, 39-38, but a 19-14 home stretch differential spelled victory for Arlington.

LEYDEN LOST just one other game this year, a one-pointer, and rates itself the best squad in Franklin Park history. On that basis Heights fans have something to look forward to, for the locals have whipped Maine, Palatine, Riverside, Glenbard, Leyden and Downers Grove in that order.

Several boys played outstanding games for the Cardinal and White, including Bill Randag, Wayne Malzahn, who played just five minutes, Larry Brumm, John Sujack and Dennis Streigel, the later looking particularly good against the boards in spite of sinking only three of 18 free throws.

Randag and Sujack were high for Arlington with 12 and 10 points, while Hurmence was tops for Leyden with 21 points. The locals were a bit below their usual 50% average in accuracy, hitting on 18 of 44 charities.

AGAINST DOWNERS Monday, "the name's the same," but quality of play was upset as the speed of the visitors almost upset Coach Ormsbee's applecart. Arlington had the heighth, and led all the way, by ten points at one time in the second quarter, but Downers speed almost made up the difference.

Ball handling and deception was bad for Heights. High pointer for Heights was Wayne Malzahn with 14 with John Sujack's eleven right behind. Siedentop's eight buckets and four charities were tops for the losers.

TO DATE Arlington has hit on 50% of its free throws, and has been assessed for 69 fouls compared to the opposition's 107. In free throws made the locals lead, 17.8 to 10.1.

Brown Bombers At Arlington Thursday Night

The famed Chicago Brown Bombers and the Wheeling Blackhawks meet Thursday night, Jan. 22, at Arlington Heights high school gym, in what should prove an outstanding basketball exhibition. The star-studded Brown Bombers, carrying many outstanding players, are a smooth operating ball club, who not only play outstanding basketball, but whose antics on the court prove a tremendous drawing card. These are just a few of the players on the Bombers' squad:

John "Doc" Scott, 6'3" forward, one of the best set-shot artists in the game, former Globe Trotter.

Emory Luck, 5'11" guard, a fast, tricky and clever ball handler.

Fred Pearson, 6' forward, a former Harlem Globe Trotter, is a terrific player on offense as well as defense.

Bill "Big Bill" Pitts, 6'7" center, a terrific hook shot artist, big hands, and strong on the boards.

THE OPPOSING team, the Wheeling Blackhawks, consists of:

Hans Schmidt, 5'10" forward; George Newman, 5'11" guard; Bob Sander, 6' forward; Gene Moylan, 5'11" guard; Rick Sander, 6'1" forward; Jim Millay, 5'7" guard; Bob Kleiner, 6'1" center; Vic DiPiero, 5'7" guard; Art Horcher, 6'1" center; Erick Wenzlaff, 5'1" guard; Ted Warning, 6'1" center; Art Zimmer, 6'2" center.

Cards Host To League Leaders; Off To Crystal Lake Saturday

Possible state champion, undefeated, rated number two in the state, West Suburban league champ—all rolled into one—that is the menu for Arlington Heights basketball fans Friday night when the Lyons township high school five of LaGrange come to town.

Posting an average 84-45 victory trail over West Suburban conference schools, LaGrange is riding high these days and has been for several seasons, ever since making the trip to the Sweet Sixteen back in 1948. That was the year the Lions lost just one regularly scheduled game, 50-49, to Evanston. The Lyons township five finished fourth in the state that time.

MORE RECENTLY the Lions, coached by Greg Sloan, have won 33 of their last 34 league games, 56 of 61 overall. They've hit 94 times in league play, and at least on two occasions appeared to have been able to run the count to 120 if desired. Just this past week the squad fell one point short of 100 against Glenbard.

Good height, rebounding, speed and all-'round scoring, added to a good basketball fundamentals program starting in the grade schools have combined to make this year's LaGrange five an outstanding aggregation in the state.

SWEET SIXTEEN tournament time is a long way off, but "the experts" are picking LaGrange to land a berth in the big meet in March, and possibly take state honors. Whether they'll get by Morton in the regional and Kankakee in the sectional remains to be seen.

But any way you look at it, LaGrange has the class, speed and scoring punch to carry it all the way. Even Coach Sloan admits his boys "have it" this year and could take the state title.

A glance at the West Suburban league scoring records to date gives a clue of why this team is on top.

HEADING THAT LIST of scorers is tall, terrific Ted Caiazza, averaging nine baskets and five free throws per game. He's carded 158 points in just half a season, and will far surpass his last year's sophomore record of scoring 181 points in the full season.

In fifth spot in league scoring is Joe McRae with 87 points, averaging five baskets per game. Joe and Ted finished seventh and eighth in loop scoring last season, Joe garnering 186 points. He's running ahead of that pace to date.

CHARLES SEDGWICK has parted the nets for 67 points per contest this year, averaging four baskets per league contest. Leon McRae has 60 points to his credit (he had 83 last year), averaging just three buckets per game, while Nate Smith has tallied 53 points to date.

Seventeen boys have scored for LaGrange this year in West Suburban league play, making the Lyons township five the most high powered squad ever seen in the spacious, new, 4,000 seat Arlington Heights gym this year. With plenty of good seats available, local fans are certain to turn out in force.

LOCALLY SPEAKING, Herb Gorder is carrying top honors in league scoring for Arlington. He's carded 29 baskets, 13 free throws for 71 points, as released in the complete list of conference scoring published exclusively this week by Paddock Publications.

John Eakins has accounted for 61 scores, Tom Bowersox 52, Larry Slinkard 40, Dave Turner 34.

In other league contests Maine will be at Hinsdale, Riverside-Brookfield travels to Downers Grove and York will be host to Glenbard.

THE FROSH-SOPH encounter Friday night will be an even affair. The entire league division is very evenly matched with any squad capable of knocking any other off the perch. To date Coach Maurice Klotz' ambitious youngsters are one game behind York, tied for second with Downers Grove.

They've lost to both York and Downers. The leaders also lost to Downers, while the latter lost to Riverside, 44-40, and to LaGrange, 46-45. The young Lions have a 3-4 slate to date, one of those losses being to Heights December 5, 35-33, a single basket.

Breaks of the game are accounting for many of the victories in the frosh-soph division and the second half of the West Suburban season starting Friday night is certain to see some reversals of previous games.

GYMNASTICS EXHIBITION is again slated for between halves of the varsity game on the Heights court. About 30 of Coach Gay Hughes' boys and girls will perform on the side horse and long horse, helping acquaint fans with the newest sport at Arlington.

Saturday night the Cardinals travel to Crystal Lake. The Lakers just finished walloping Hebron by better than 20 points. They rank second only to Barrington in North Suburban league competition.

The other time Heights met LaGrange on Friday, Barrington was the opponent Saturday. This time it's the Lakers, certainly a strong schedule for the local five, which partially explains the number of losses suffered this season.

The preliminary at Crystal Lake will be a JV affair, not frosh-soph. Other Heights activity this week includes a Thursday evening wrestling match at Palatine, starting at 7 p.m., a frosh game Friday afternoon at Niles, varsity wrestling against Evanston Tuesday afternoon in the Heights gym, and frosh-soph wrestling at Hinsdale Wednesday.

Palatine Frosh Cagers Toy Wauconda, Bisons

Palatine's frosh cage team beat Wauconda, 33-24, and Bensenville, 34-23, in games with Northwest conference opponents last week away from home. Palatine led all the way at Wauconda with a 16-8 edge at the half. Peter Trenchard led the Palatine scoring with 12 points while Bill Hamilton scored nine. Weber had 15 for Wauconda.

At Bensenville Saturday Palatine ran up a 10-0 lead in the opening quarter and shut out the Bisons 7-0 in the third period. Coach Feutz used 13 boys for Palatine. The half time score was 20-6. Hamilton scored 10, Trenchard six, Lutz five, and Hess and Bondeson four each. For Bensenville DeHooe had nine and Newcomb five points.

Palatine has beaten Antioch, Grayslake, Wauconda, and Bensenville and dropped decisions to Grant and Ela-Vernon in Northwest conference frosh games. The Grant game was lost in an overtime. Each of the six teams will meet again before the end of the season. The conference frosh tournament will open at Grayslake Monday, March 9.

Arlington Gymnasts Lose To New Trier, 90-42

Arlington's gymnastics squad dropped their first match in history Friday afternoon at New Trier, 90-42, but surprised many followers when Bob Catherwood took a first on the side horse.

Gymnastics is a new sport at Arlington Heights high school, and represents the sixth squad participating in winter sports for boys at Arlington. Scoring in this year's Heights matches is on the basis of 7-5-4-3-2-1 points for six places in each of six events, side horse, horizontal bar, parallel bar, rings, tumbling and trampoline.

Judges watching the events determine, through points, the positions of three boys from each competing school.

Don Bates took second on the horizontal bar, in addition to fifth on side horse and fourth on rings; Don Helfers took sixth on both horizontal and parallel bars; Clay Bebber tied for fourth in tumbling, ranked fourth on parallel bar, fifth on horizontal bar and sixth on rings.

Ken Koeppen finished fourth on trampoline. Junior Dick Michalski ranked fifth on rings and sixth on side horse. Junior Dick Dreyer ranked fifth on parallel bar.

Two sophomores also garnered points for Coach Gay Hughes. Windy Innis tied for fourth in tumbling and took sixth on trampoline. Griffith Pritchard finished fifth on trampoline and sixth in tumbling.

Arlington Wrestlers Whip Riverside

Arlington's frosh-soph wrestlers gained eight pins and two decisions in a one-sided decision against Riverside-Brookfield Friday afternoon, copping the match, 46-8.

Pins were earned by Clayton Baumann, Al Rose, Bredfeldt, Walter Mulso, John Hoth, John Heintz, Clyde Eberhard and Floyd Burns. Decisions were won by Ken Piepenbrinck and Harrison Kennicott. For Riverside-Brookfield it was Strafaci taking a decision and Viven a pin.

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

IN COLLEGES THE expensiveness of outfitting, transporting, coaching, and recruiting the big squads required by the platoon system caused many to drop football. We know the majority of college coaches oppose the change, and so do high school sports leaders.

One reason is they don't want to have to change their methods and adapt themselves to a new system where they have to spend long hours trying to teach defensive tactics to their offensive stars.

The new rule makes coaching tougher and requires tougher and more versatile players, not too bad a trend in this era of soft living and pampered athletes.

Under the new rule the coach will have to give a part of the game back to the boys and depend on their intelligence and initiative to call part of the plays and do some thinking on the field. From an educational standpoint is that bad?

Heights Sophs Beat St. Edward, Lose To Downers

"Good game Friday, but lost; poor game Saturday, but won." Thus spoke one fan in analyzing the play of the Arlington Heights frosh-soph basketball aggregation over the week-end when the locals lost to Downers Grove, 54-50, but beat St. Edward of Elgin, 29-23.

Downers just couldn't miss Friday night as they swished the nets from all possible angles and distances. They led all the way, 14-11 at the quarter, 27-26 at the half, and 38-36 going into the final frame. But Heights was never out of it.

THE LOSS SEVERED the alliance between Coach Maurice Klotz' five and York of Elmhurst. Arlington is now tied with Downers for second, both schools posting 5-2 league records, while York is in front after a narrow escape from Hinsdale with a 6-1 slate.

Big gun for Arlington from a scoring standpoint was Wayne Mueller. He sank eight baskets and eight of twelve free throws for 24 points. But it took the entire team playing smooth, heads-up ball to keep up with Downers.

Baukol was tops for Coach Adams of Downers with 18 points.

SATURDAY NIGHT the young Cardinals came home to host St. Edward of Elgin, and won despite a poorly played game. A 4-3 opening segment advanced (?) to a 13-8 at the half. Heights led at the three-quarter mark, 18-15.

Both teams played raggedly. For Arlington Wayne Brumm tallied the only bucket the first period. Theis and Maher each dropped in two the second quarter. Mueller and Malzahn added one apiece the third, with Mueller hitting for three the final quarter.

F. Siete was high for the losers with eight points.

LaGrange Hits 99 Against Glenbard A League Record

by ED BERNDT

By completely overpowering Glenbard from the opening jump to the final gun, the LaGrange varsity cracked the WSC scoring mark as they tallied 99 points.

Their fine defense, an all-court press, enabled them to intercept the ball time after time. In the first four minutes of play, Glenbard got the ball out of bounds under the LaGrange basket 15 times. Only four times were they able to get it over the center line.

GLENBARD jumped to an early lead when Dick Slater sank a free throw. From then on it was all LaGrange. In the next 90 seconds the Lions tallied 14 points. This indicated the coming rout.

A total of 65 fouls were called in the game, 34 of them against Glenbard. Only one player fouled out in this ordeal, however.

Joe McRae sparked the first quarter for LaGrange with a 10-point splurge. The score was 33-8 at the quarter.

THE PACE slowed in the second quarter as the winners scored only 20 points. Ted Caiazza got 10 points this quarter. LaGrange held a 53-13 halftime lead.

Glenbard came back and played a good second half as they were outscored only 46-32. Denny Coak, Dick Cline and Don Duffey played good ball for Glenbard.

IN CLOSING minutes of the game a jump shot by Chuck Sedgwick tied the scoring mark of 93 points. Wayne Kennedy followed with a lay up to break the record. Dave McKeag sank two more baskets to reach the new high. The Lions tried gallantly to break the 100 mark but the Bard defense stopped them at 99.

Ted Caiazza tallied eight baskets and ten free throws for 26 points to take scoring honors. Joe McRae got 14 points for runner-up.

Denny Cook paced Glenbard with ten points and Dick Cline followed with nine.

The Bards' next game is at York Friday.

'Crown Prince' Of Brown Bombers

Jim "Nuggy" Watkins, who will be in the starting line-up of the Chicago Brown Bombers when they oppose the Wheeling Blackhawks Thursday night, January 22, in the Arlington Heights high school gym. Watkins, captain and crown prince of the Bombers, is a veteran of pro ball, having served two years with the Harlem Globetrotters and the Broadway Clowns. A personality player and terrific crowd pleaser, his floor generalship and playmaking stamps him as one of the very best in the game today.

Palatine JV's Stop Arlington JV's, 60-29

Led by Pete Abramson's scoring splurge of 27 points the Palatine junior varsity ran wild over the Arlington Heights JV, 60-29, Saturday morning. Palatine had a 12-4 lead at the quarter, 27-16 at the half and 42-20 at the three quarter mark. All of Palatine's points were scored by five boys with Abramson having 27, Meyer 11, Breyer 10, McElroy 8, and Kolze 4. Arlington's guards scored 20 of their 29 points. Thomas and Ryden with 13 between them were high scorers for the Cardinals.

Arlington has a JV team with no juniors who are on the varsity squad included. Palatine has only a 15 man varsity squad and the junior members of that group play the JV games. This accounts for the one sided score.

Arlington JV Cagers Lose To Downers

Arlington's JVs played good ball the first half for Coach Ken Schaller, but fell by the wayside the second half and succumbed to Downers Grove Monday afternoon, 59-35. The loss was the seventh for the locals.

The young Cardinals kept even the opening period, 10-all, but a 15-7 second stanza was too much, going into the home stretch, 39-27. Bright light for Coach Schaller was the play of Charley Verret, a boy who'd never even played frosh-soph ball before but who now looms as one of the better boys on the squad.

High pointer for Heights was Thomas with eight points, Verret garnering seven. For Downers it was Werneske, Fister and Gibson, who all gained 11 scores. All seven visitors scored.

Palatine Trims St. Peter's In Dart Ball League

Immanuel of Palatine was all ready for St. Peter's of Arlington Heights when the latter traveled to Palatine for their regular scheduled three game session last Friday night in the dart ball league.

Immanuel defeated St. Peter's two out of three games, winning the last one with a sustained drive in the late innings with all members hitting and scoring five runs to win 7-4.

Pankonin and Weatherbee led Immanuel with 4 hits each while Sass and Obermann led St. Peter's with 7 and 5 hits respectively. August Lang of St. Peter's contributed a home run.

MEANWHILE St. Paul of Mt. Prospect continued to reside in second after defeating Faith of Arlington Heights 2 out of 3 games at Mount Prospect.

Wally Bach was the high man in batting, getting 11 hits for 16 times at bat while his teammate Bayne was able to get 4 consecutive triples to aid the team cause.

St. Peter, Arlington Heights, first.

St. Paul, Mount Prospect, second.

Faith, Arlington Heights, third.

Immanuel, Palatine, fourth.

Things are tightening up in the league race now as the dart ball tournament and dinner are not too many months away and all want to win the beautiful traveling trophy last won by St. Paul of Mount Prospect.

THE FIRST TEAM to win this trophy three times will become permanent owners. There will be more individual awards this year.

The Lutheran dart ball league is looking for new teams to enlarge their league next year. Anyone interested should contact Carl Schwerman, president of the league or any member of the various teams participating.

Next week St. Paul of Mount Prospect travels to Immanuel at Palatine and Faith of Arlington Heights will be moving to the north side of Arlington Heights to fight it out with St. Peter's.

Palatine Drubs Wauconda Twice

Palatine maintained their all victorious home court record by beating Wauconda in a double bill Friday night, 65-44 in the varsity game and 60-43 in the frosh-soph. Palatine coaches substituted liberally in both games and indications were that the Pirates are out of their holiday slump and ready to make a strong bid for at least a share of the conference championship. Friday's victories were the fifth in six league games for both teams.

Coach Moylan used a platoon system in the varsity game starting with a team of small boys playing man for man and shifting to a zone group the following quarter. His first group gained an eight point lead of 16-8 and the second increased the margin another 10 points to 34-16 at the half. Wauconda stayed in the game only on free throws, making 28 out of 54 along with only eight field goals. Palatine had 22 from the field and 21 out of 38 free throws.

The 92 free throws attempted set a conference record.

"Tinker" Meyer was top scorer for Palatine with 14 points while Stan Hauseman, Paul Schrage, and John Busch each tallied 12. Dennis Punches had 11 for Wauconda.

PALATINE HAD a 31-21 lead at the half in the frosh-soph game, saw it melt away in the third period, and then scored 14 points in two and one half minutes at the start of the final period to win easily, 60-43.

Wauconda had the edge on size but Palatine, rated the under dog, showed great improvement in ball handling and shooting.

John Goetz scored 16 points, Ormel Prust 15, and Schoenfeld and Eck each 10 for Palatine. George Jaskot, Wauconda center, was their main performer with 21 points. Antioch is the only team which has beaten Coach Art Zimmer's Palatine squad in Northwest Conference competition.

Fishing in the 18th annual metropolitan Miami fishing tournament, Virgil W. Rolfs, 407 N. Haddow, Arlington Heights, caught a 34-pound amberjack. It was his first time in Florida and his first fishing trip. His catch was the first game fish to win a citation out of Carabee Yacht Basin, Islamorada, on the Keys in the current tourney.

While not a top fish in its class, the catch will win for the local angler a special frontispiece in an attractive Year Book issued at the end of the tournament.

Mac Schroyers' Last Second Bucket Gives Ela 66-65 Thriller Over Grayslake

Mac Shroyer's last second basket from mid court gave Ela-Vernon a 66-65 thriller at the expense of Grayslake Friday night and enabled the Bears to stay in the Northwest conference cage race. It was Ela's fourth win in six starts and Grayslake's fourth defeat. Ela-Vernon frosh-sophs maintained the same record as their varsity in the standings with an easy 51-29 victory.

Ela led 33-30 at the half but the hot shooting of John Hook who tallied 28 points carried Grayslake in front in the third quarter and they were on top until Shroyer's hope shot decided the issue in the final play of the game.

John Hook's 28 points put him on top in the individual scoring at the mid point in the schedule with 112 in six games for a 18.7 per game average.

John's cousin Jay Hook scored 11 and Wally Giernoth nine in a losing cause.

COACH BERBERICH shifted his Grant lineup against Antioch's unbeaten Sequoits and came close to pulling an upset. Antioch finished on top, 62-55, but had a scare in the final quarter when a Grant rally almost closed a scoring gap which amounted to 17 points at the half.

Berberich shifted Al Guetzloff from center to forward and shifted Kent Raffel, a guard, to the pivot position. The change paid off as Raffel scored 17 points.

Bob Bein, soph forward, and Dick Wisner, junior guard, each tallied 11 points. Bein maintained fifth place in the individual scoring with an 86 point total.

Antioch's balanced scoring again paid off as Bruce Stahmer scored 17, Bob Floyd and Bob Baird 13 and Ben Floyd 10. Antioch's ability to put up a strong defense, yet keep fouling at a minimum, was again an asset as they scored 22 free throws to Grant's five and were outscored 25-20 from the field. Grant was assessed 23 fouls to Antioch's 10 infractions.

Arlington Loses To Downers And St. Edward Fives

Lack of a scoring punch once more cost the Arlington Heights high school Cardinals two basketball games, this time a 54-42 decision to Downers Grove and a surprise 55-51 loss to St. Edward of Elgin. The latter was expected to be a one-sided affair for the visitors.

The Cardinals have yet to garner more than 54 points this season through 13 games, averaging 48. They've let opponents average 55 per contest. Disregarding the locals' two wins over Palatine (bless 'em) and the one over Lake Forest, the Heights five stands on the short end of a 60-47 average.

IN OTHER words what Arlington lacks are both a scoring attack able to hit 60 once in a while, and a defense that'll cut the opposition about ten scores. Friday night at Downers Grove Coach Ray DeGreeff's boys started fast with five baskets, two by Dave Turner, and two free throws, for a 12-10 margin. The advantage disappeared, however, and halftime tally stood at 27-23, Downers. Scoring was even the third period and the first five minutes of the final quarter found the Cardinals moving to within one basket of the winners.

The the roof fell in. Bad passes, interceptions, and the shooting eyes of the hungry hosts combined to run the margin to 12 points. High man for Arlington was Turner with eleven, Skelton with nine. Scoring was well divided for Downers, Rolando getting 15 and McCollum swishing the nets for 13.

Wintertime Is 'Watch Your Heart' Time

These are "watch-your-heart days, the Chicago Heart Association warned. The death rate from heart and blood vessel diseases rises approximately thirteen per cent during January, February and March.

The Heart Association makes six suggestions to guard the heart during the cold weather months:

Avoid self-diagnosis. Have your doctor examine your heart and lungs so that, if necessary, you can receive prompt treatment for any heart disease that may be revealed. If treatment is not indicated, he will advise what precautions to take. If your heart is sound, needless anxiety can be avoided.

AVOID OVER - EXERTION. Physical activity rarely, if ever, can strain a healthy heart, but over-exertion can aggravate damage that already exists.

Get plenty of rest. Relax as much as you can. Avoid habitual late hours. Aim for eight or more hours sleep each night.

Avoid over-weight. Extra pounds make extra work for your heart.

Avoid infections, particularly respiratory infections. Should you become ill, seek treatment promptly. Immediate attention to "strep" infections is most important to guard children against rheumatic fever, which can lead to rheumatic heart disease.

Don't worry. Worry can place an extra load on an already damaged heart. Find out the facts about your heart. Do all you can to protect it.

Gems Of Thought

SIMPLICITY

Oh, what a power has white simplicity!
—Keats

The teachings of Jesus were simple; and yet he found it difficult to make the rulers understand, because of their great lack of spirituality.
—Mary Baker Eddy

Simplicity is an exact medium between too little and too much.
—Sir Joshua Reynolds

Beauty of style and harmony and grace and good rhythm depend on simplicity.
—Plato

To see a thing and tell it in plain words is the greatest thing a soul can do.
—Ruskin

Simplicity of character is no hindrance to subtlety of intellect.
—John Morley

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

New fallen snow, changing the shape of familiar things, glamorizing the bare trees, turns a drab winter landscape into a snapshooter's paradise.

"Let It Snow . . ."

YOU'RE probably familiar with the song which is revived every winter on the disc jockey shows that choruses "Let it snow, let it snow . . ."

That might well be the theme song of camera enthusiasts this time of year because snow brings such wonderful views for them to focus on. So, whether you find snow in your own back yard or travel to chillier climes for a winter vacation, be sure that your camera gets out in the snow with you.

It's easy to get interesting pictorial effects with snow on the landscape. Furthermore, snow glamorizes scenes that would otherwise not be worth a glance into your view finder. Try doing your shooting early in the morning, or late in the afternoon. At those times the light is "low" and will provide you with long shadows that will add to the beauty of your picture.

Remember, especially if you are shooting in color, that the snow serves as a natural reflector of light and makes your subject a bright one. If you are using an adjustable camera, determine your exposure with that in mind. If you have a fixed focus or box type camera, use ordinary snapshot film for your black-and-white shooting in preference to the faster panchromatic types. This film has sufficient exposure latitude to make up for the extra brilliance of your subject.

To determine exposure simply follow the instructions that are packed with the film you are using. In the chart you'll find listed brilliant subjects and that's where you'll find the answer.

A bright, sunny, clear day is the best you can find for snow pictures. And, on such a day, with either black-and-white or color film, stand so the scene and the snow are lighted from the side. That is, rather than having the sun directly at your back, shoot with it coming from one side or the other. This will help you record faithfully the texture of the snow. The bright sunlight makes the snow sparkle, but don't forget that you can make very effective "mood" pictures on dull days. You probably won't want an album filled with those, but an occasional one adds variety.

—John Van Guilder

Bits O' Business

The Supreme Court upheld an ICC ruling which will have the effect of ruling out the return-trip leases whereby farm truckers pick up cargo for small truck lines . . . White sales cleaned out bedsheet inventories; some mills are refusing orders through February . . . TV manufacturers say they will sell at least 6,400,000 sets this year . . . Speaking of trucks, the TVA's transport chief wishes they weren't made with 80,000-mile engines and 40,000-mile valves. Then he would just throw them away when something broke, assuming that everything else would be breaking pretty soon . . . Housewives, both because they smoke morea nd because they prefer one-stop shopping, are credited with making supermarkets the biggest sales outlet for cigarettes . . . One movie chain reports an 11 per cent December-to-December gain in admissions, hopes it the turning of the TV-induced ebb tide.

At Park

Darlene Toppel, 222 N. Benton st., Palatine, a junior at Park college, Parkville, Mo., was recently elected president of the Calliopean social club for the second semester, 1952-53.

Each Park college student belongs to one of the five clubs, which are "brother-sister" organizations with one division for men and one for women. The college's sports and social programs revolve around the club system.

Miss Toppel's club is always paired in campus activities with the Parchevard club, the "brother" organization for men.

At Park

Charles Johnson, 803 N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, a junior at Park college, Parkville, Mo., was recently elected president of the Lancelot social club for the second semester, 1952-53.

Mr. Johnson's club is always paired in campus activities with the Elaine club, the "sister" organization for women.

At Navy Pier

Registration for the spring semester at the University of Illinois' Chicago undergraduate division will start Thursday, February 5, with classes beginning the following Monday at Navy Pier.

At Drake

Joseph Weber of Prospect Heights has been elected president of Pi Kappa Phi, national social fraternity, at Drake university in Des Moines, Iowa.

Weber is a junior at Drake, majoring in pre-law in the college of liberal arts.

At Knox

Members of the orchestra which will play for the Knox college music and dramatic department presentation of Mozart's light opera, "The Marriage of Figaro," the evenings of January 22, 23, and 24 at the Knox theatre include John Cooper, Arlington Heights.

At Valparaiso

Miss Anita L. Glabe, a resident of Mt. Prospect, has been elected treasurer of Kappa Tau Zeta sorority for the spring semester at Valparaiso university.

A sophomore majoring in English, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Glade of 6 S. William, Mt. Prospect. She was graduated from Arlington Heights township high school.

At Knox

Six national fraternities on the Knox College campus pledging 100 men. This pledging followed an intensive week of rushing.

Among those pledged to Phi Sigma Kappa was Malcolm James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm F. James, 300 S. Plum Grove, Palatine.

At Knox

Six national fraternities on the Knox college campus pledging 100 men. The pledging followed an intensive week of rushing.

Among those pledged to Phi Delta Theta were John H. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Cooper, 225 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, and Michael F. Cuscaden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Cuscaden, 315 N. Beverly, Arlington Heights.

Way Back When

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money." — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1985

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50 years ago this week

Fifty Years Ago

JAN. 24, 1903

Mr. and Mrs. George Stroker of Palatine are parents of twin boys.

Palatine MWA initiate 25 new members.

The contractor who built the Batterman brick block in Palatine in 1884 is remodeling the structure.

Ben Wenegar and Miss Bertha Sauer of Long Grove married Jan. 28, 1903.

The noon whistle of Peter & Volz factory is not being blown on accouht of the illness of the Sebastian triplets.

William Busse and Ed Busse, Mt. Prospect, have formed a new partnership selling well selected stock of groceries, dry goods, underwear, gents furnishings, hats and caps, crockery, stoves, hardware, nails and cutlery, binding twine, farm implements, seeds and everything found in the first class general store.

L. F. Busse sells good wood in Elk Grove at $4.00 a cord, or delivered in Arlington Heights at $5.00 a cord.

Santa Claus has a great time bewitching horses in the vicinity of Deikeville (west Elk Grove). The editor's "Bonny" left him to walk home from Deikeville last Saturday night, but he found friends on the road and stopped at Pfingsten's hotel.

Ernest Gosche, Milwaukee ave., made money on the farm last summer, but he considered himself richer by $500 Tuesday when his wife presented him with an eight pound girl.

A movement is on foot to have a law passed permitting country school districts to consolidate and to transport pupils to and from schools at public expense.

Forty Years Ago

JAN. 24, 1913

Maude, the faithful engine on the P. L. Z. & W. railroad between Palatine and Wauconda has gone. Never again will we hear her joyous voice raised in song as she slowly found her way towards Lake Zurich. We have all grown to love every rivet in her body. She was faithful to the last until the lining of her stomach was worn through and her bronchial tubes were sadly in need of repair. She has been sent to the hospital where modern boiler doctors will care for her.

William Dohle, Schaumburg, is ready to book orders for first class puppy dogs; speak early.

Miss Erma Schneider and Frank Schuette, Itasca, played violin solos at Professor Zander's recital.

● HOME BUILDER

Lots of fellows help build their own homes and get a big kick out of it, but we doubt if anyone ever got any more pleasure and satisfaction out of building his own home than did Roland Runge in the building of his new home on south Plum Grove ave., Palatine.

Roland, with the help of some of his relatives, has built himself a neat comfortable home and fixed it up to the liking of himself and Mrs. Runge. Being in the electrical business himself, Roland naturally saw to it that the electrical work was right up to snuff and he has that department taken care of to perfection.

There is no "click" when he turns on a light switch — just a silent pressure and the light comes on. He has a panel in his bedroom where he can reach out of bed and turn on or off any light in the house.

Some of the material in the new home is lumber that Roland salvaged from some old barns that were given him, and that material is of better quality than a lot of the material sold today. Roland says that he and his helpers watched the professional builders at work and tried to do as professional a looking job as possible. To our unprofessional appraisal and from what we have seen of some professional work, it appeared to us that Roland and his crew had really done a lot better job than a lot of the professional jobs.

After getting his living room, kichen and bedrooms completed to his satisfaction, Roland started on what he calls his "pride and joy," the big full basement that has plenty of room and light and which, when he gets it completed, will house his "shop," work bench, tools, etc., at one end and his wife's department with washer and other household appliances at the other.

Roland's lot was one of the last lots available in that neighborhood and it was rather low, but a lot of fill obtained from nearby took care of that problem.

In the summer, he plans to erect a garage and breezeway to the north of his main building, and when he gets around to it, there are a couple of upstairs rooms to be completed. Roland started on his new home last April, and the family moved in shortly before Christmas. The work was done mainly in the evenings and on Saturdays, only a couple of Sundays being used when the pressure of work became too great.

For the sheer joy of building his own home and the personal satisfaction derived from seeing the work completed according to the way he wanted to see it done, Roland has surely had an enjoyable season on his spare time. As he says, "There's a lot to do yet, but we'll get there."

And when he does, "get there" and even while he's getting there, he and the family have a dandy little home to enjoy the fruits of their own untiring efforts.

● TOILETS

It's a far cry from the old, unsanitary wooden school outhouses of the past to the modern and up to date school toilets of the present, but the end isn't yet. What do you think of a toilet in every school room, just as much a part of that room as the work tables or the blackboards? Well, that's what's coming in the proposed new Palatine elementary school, plans for which are now being drawn. At the last couple of meetings of the District 15 school board, the subject of a toilet in every room has come up for considerable discussion.

It was pointed out that in this school for lower grade pupils, each room was a unit by itself, kind of a family unit affair, and that a toilet for each room naturally became a part of the unit. It seemed to be the general impression that such an arrangement would work allright in kindergarten and primary grades, but would it work in such grades as the fifth and sixth?

It seemed to be the opinion of the school administration that it would. Superintendent Jordan gave the result of a poll he had taken of a small group of mothers, about half of them were for the plan and half of them hadn't gvien it any consideration. Reports from teachers who had talked about the subject with parents were along the same line. For any child sensitive about using the room toilet, there would be other toilet facilities off the main corridor at one end of the building.

We have asked several citizens their opinion on this subject. "All right for the primary, but not above the third grade," has been the big majority of answers. "Probably could be made to work with education of both pupils and public," was another answer. One teacher thought the distance from the corner toilet to the wash basins across the room was too far. "It's about the distance across this room," remarked president Sanborn, "we used to walk a lot farther than that," thinking, no doubt, of the long hike outdoors around the building and then a quarter of a block more.

Anyway, the school board is trying to build a building such as the community wants, and the architect is trying to build a building that the board wants, so if anyone has any ideas or suggestions, now is the time to tell the board what your ideas are. Meantime it's sure been a long jump from the old unsanitary outdoor outhouses to the modern toilet facilities in every room. Times do change and no mistake.

● PHANTOM'S FINISH

The Nelson phantom is no more. He was trapped one night last week through the ingenuity of Mrs Nelson. After the big splurge when the rat chased an army of six grown men out of the way and made his escape, Johnny Nelson said he guessed they would just have to accept him as one of the family, and the rat proceeded to bring all his treasurers back into the house as if he intended to settle down for the winter.

Then the Nelson's confined his activity to a smaller space and Mrs. Nelson kept food where he couldn't get any, simply sprinkling flour all around. Hungry. "the phantom" ate the flour. Then Mrs. Nelson set a big trap, sprinkled flour all over it and placed a lettuce leaf over the trap. The next morning there was the phantom caught by the nose. his reign of terror ended and peace and quiet restored in the Nelson household once more. And as Ham Olson says, "I've always told Johnny that when that rat was caught, it wouldn't be the combined brains of the coffee club that did it, but his 'wife'." And so it turned out, the reign of the phantom is over, peace and quiet is restored to the Nelson home and Mrs. Nelson did the trick. Now the coffee hour boys have got to hunt up a new sensation to enliven the morning sessions.

● MAD JURY

A recent story in the Chicago papers which quoted a Palatine coroner's jury as making certain recommendations about the filling up or draining a pond where a couple of youths drowned last fall has caused the members of that jury to really get hot under the collar.

The verdict of that coroner's jury was "accidental death." When the deputy coroner tried to get them to include the recommendation, they refused, saying that their verdict was accidental death — period.

Now the members of that jury would like to know by what right a deputy is authorized to alter the signed verdict which they turned in on the case. It looks to members of that jury that somebody was exceeding their authority for some reason or other and making them the goat, and they would like to know "how come."

● CONTACTS

It looks as though evil doers would do well to give Palatine a wide berth. Chief of Police Meyer reported to the village board a week ago that he has made cnotacts with various federal law enforcement forces which if need be, would answer a call for assistance at any time and put the full law enforcement power of the government behind the local police.

The chief reported co-operative contacts with the FBI, navy, intelligence, immigration and naturalization and narcotics and alcohol units. With all that law enforcement power ready to hop on a culprit, even a sparrow with bad intentions would think twice before he flew over the town.

● LATE HOURS

Maybe sometime these village and school boards will get an idea to scatter out their meetings some and not have them all the same week. Those near midnight hours may be all right for a cub reporter who doesn't care about sleep, but they are kind of tough on some of us old timers who have been on the news beat for over fifty years, even if all we do on those evenings is make a few notes as we listen to other people's troubles — septic tanks that won't work, heating systems that fall down on the job, contractors that are way behind in their work and a thousand and one other things that take up the time of those hard working and unpaid public officials.

One bright spot in those school board meetings since the advent of school cafeterias is the lunch that is served to the board members and any visitors who may be present on business. Trat cup of coffee and other refreshment goes a long way toward perking up the folks.

Mrs. Marge Mason, cafeteria manager at the high school, seems to know that half of that board are farmers and that outdoor workers are liable to be hungry for the stack of husky sandwiches and cookies she leaves, for that boards after meeting lunch looks as if she was expecting a bunch of boys from the harvest fields to forge in — but the food always vanishes all right. The boys really are hungry along about midnight.

● GETTING CLOSE

Groundhog day will be with us in less than two weeks, the day when Mr. Groundhog will come out of his hole, look around and tell us if the backbone of the winter is broken or if we are to expect six weeks more of winter. If the gentleman sees his shadow, it's back to his hole for another six weeks; if he doesn't see his shadow, he's supposed to stay out and play around in the springlike atmosphere.

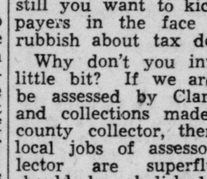

The question this year is, did he ever take to his hole in the first place? It's been a very open winter so far and there really hasn't been much of an excuse for him to hole up at all. But at that, they say there is a foot of frost in the ground and the ice on the lakes where the fishermen are fishing through, the ice is five or six inches thick.

Taken all in all, however, it's been an open winter in this area, while down south some of our friends are having the toughest winter in years according to the old timers.

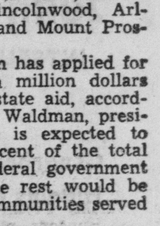

The warm gulf stream has been flown six miles out to sea by the cold "northers" that have hit Florida according to the old time firshermen. Miami papers are carrying full page ads of heating equipment and even Bill DePue, who always says, "Don't pay any attention to what you see in the papers about Florida cold snaps," writes that it's been down to a shivery 40 around his neck of the woods.

So it hasn't been too beautiful down in the sunshine country this winter while up here it's been so mild that we're all wondering if the groundhog ever went into his hole at all. Maybe he won't have anything to come out of on his big day when he's supposed to forecast the weather for the rest of the season. Anyway, as compared to the last couple of years, the winter so far has been a real "softie" and within about fifty days some of the spring birds will be back with us so things just can't be too awfully tough the rest of the way.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Why Ttaxpayers?

In one of your last two issues of the Palatine Enterprise you came out with a screaming headline of the personal property tax dodgers in Palatine township with (I suppose) the intent to shame the taxpayers to pay the taxes, even if they were wrongly levied and you did not offter one decent suggestion on how the various tax bodies and taxpayers could get together and square things up. All you want to do is to blah, blah, blah.

Two years ago, I was green at this personal property proposition, and when this assessor Deverman had me come to his house and tell me to sign for two hundred dollars value on a few sticks of furniture, he told me the tax would only be a dollar or two. When I got the bill, the cost was over $10.

Last spring the new assessor told me there would be no tax because I only had furniture. Last summer I received a bill from the county for a valuation of $110.00. Tax $5.60.

You can see that this thing is not run on the square and still you want to kick the taxpayers in the face with your rubbish about tax dodgers.

Why don't you investigate a little bit? If we are going to be assessed by Clark's office and collections made by the county collector, then the two local jobs of assessor and collector are superfluous and should be abolished and that money used to reduce the taxes which are way too high now.

Perhaps the best solution is to be annexed to Chicago where we would then get services for free such as sewer, water, garbage collection, etc., for the taxes which we pay and where we would not always have to hear about the "personal property tax dodgers," because the average person in Chicago is not inflicted with that trouble.

Taxpayer.
Palatine

Why Our Schools?

An article in last weeks Fence Post showed that the school taxes would be advanced if a new development was allowed in Palatine Township.

The figures were in lump sums, which do seem large, but they were not divided showing the cost per taxpayer, the only way to look at such a problem.

What proportion of a total tax bill goes for school purposes? It is probably less than one third.

This increased assessment valuation of the development may not bear its part of the school taxes, but it should decrease the balance of the tax bill per taxpayer. Therefore the decrease should offset some of the assumed increase, so that the total tax bill should not be much larger than now.

In dollars and cents, the amount of taxes for school purposes is relatively small. The increase in taxes, when the new building was constructed in District 15, was generally less than $5.00 per taxpayer. Even if school taxes were increased another $5.00 it would not be too much to pay for the education of our children. A complete education for our children is the best foundation for a well organized community.

Where did the writer of last week's article stand on school consolidation when the movement was started in 1943?

Our present economical system is set up on the basis that. from him who hath, shall it be taken away and to him who hath not shall it be given, however through proper channels.

Harry E. Smith,
Palatine.

Deductions All-Important For Taxpayers When Filing

The matter of deductions is of great importance in filing individual income tax returns. The taxpayer is interested in claiming as many deductions as possible since they result in a tax reduction to him.

Of interest to the average taxpayer are the non-business or Page 3 deductions, which include such items as contributions, interest, taxes, casualty losses, medical and dental expenses and miscellaneous expenses.

When the sum total of these items is in excess of 10% of the adjusted gross income, then the taxpayer will elect to itemize in preference to the optional standard deduction in computing the tax liability.

WHEN THE adjusted gross income is less than $5,000, the standard deduction is about 10% of that income amount, and is reflected in the simplified tax table on Page 4 of Form 1040.

When the adjusted gross income is $5,000 and over, the standard deduction is exactly 10 per cent of the income amount or $1,000, whichever is less. This applies to single persons or married taxpayers filing jointly. For married people filing separate returns, the maximum deduction is $500.00.

Taxpayers are urged to compare the actual deductions with the optional standard deduction and use the larger amount. More simply, figure the tax both ways and elect the method that results in a lower tax.

HUSBANDS AND wives filing separate returns must use the same method of tax computation. If one spouse chooses to itemize actual personal deductions, the other spouse is bound by that election and must also itemize.

The amounts of money paid to an organization incorporated for charitable, religious, scientific, literary, educational or governmental purposes are deductible, provided it is incorporated within the United States or any of its possessions or under their laws.

A contribution must actually be paid and not merely pledged for those who are on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, and also those who are on the accrual basis.

The amount of allowable contributions may not exceed 20% of the adjusted gross income on Line 4, Page 1 of the white Form 1040, and may be claimed only when itemized deductions are indicated. They may not be claimed on the yellow Form 1040-A or on Form 1040 when computing tax according to the tax table, since an allowance of approximately 10% has been made in the table for deductions.

ALL INTEREST, whether paid on a business or personal loan is deductible, except when paid on money borrowed to buy nontaxable securities like certain bonds issued by a state, county, city or other political subdivision, on certain United States Government obligations, or on an indebtedness incurred to purchase a single premium life insurance or endowment contract.

You may deduct interest on an obligation which you have assumed but you may not deduct the interest you pay on a loan or mortgage of another person.

THE MONEY paid on merchandise purchased "on time" is not all classified as interest. That portion above the legal amount chargeable as interest is called a "carrying charge" or service charge: it does not represent interest and is not deductible as expense. In order to determine the exact amount of actual interest you should refer to the card or book you receive on which your payments are registered by the company from whom you made the purchase. Usually the interest and carrying charge are listed in separate columns.

Plan 2 Million Dollar Hospital To Serve Area

Ground work is well underway by members of the Niles Township Community Hospital association for the construction of a new 2 million dollar, 100 bed hospital which would serve residents of Niles, Glenview, Northbrook, Northfield, Skokie, Morton Grove, Golf, Lincolnwood, Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect.

The association has applied for approximately a million dollars in federal and state aid, according to Seymour Waldman, president. The state is expected to allocate 17 per cent of the total cost and the federal government 33 per cent. The rest would be raised by the communities served by the hospital.

Federal and state aid should be granted by July of this year and the remaining funds would have to be raised within three years after the grant is made, according to Mr. Waldman. The hospital, which has received an A-6 priority by the state, should be constructed by 1955, he added.

The project was originally conceived by the Skokie Chamber of Commerce, and the association was chartered by the state as a non-profit organization in November.

✦ Just Around The Corner ✦

from PATTY McARDLE

Just Around —
Dear Peg:

"The North Wind doth blow, and we shall have snow"—so says the weatherman. Brr! As I sit here writing to you, the night wind is racing around our apartment and rattling our big, old fashioned windows (so badly in need of a little putty). Megan woke up a few minutes ago and told me the wind frightened her. Although I was able to comfort her with the idea the wind is nice and friendly, and is merely playing with the tree tops and the window panes, my explanation really sounded a little absurd.

That rushing gale outside sounds much more like some dark, mad phantom than a playful, balmy breeze!

However, little children are so trusting and so receptive to a mother's explanation that, fortunately, it's easy to set their active imaginations and minds at peace.

IF THIS WIND is bringing low temperatures and snow in its wake, as Clint Youle says it is, we are sure to be in for several weeks of "good old" Chicago winter weather, and how I wish we were all on our way for a vacation in the sunny Suthwest. From what "Mother" said in her recent letter, it must be delightful—and I don't mind telling you, Peg, I'm envious! I'll bet you are, too.

The little town of Safford, Arizona, about 128 miles north of Tucson and about 150 east of Phoenix, is located in the Gila valley between Mt. Graham (the third largest mountain in Arizona) and another range of mountains.

It is here that "Mother" is staying, in an attractive new bungalow, until George is settled in school. After visiting several schools in Arizona, George selected and enrolled in Eastern Arizona college, in Thatcher—the first town just west of Safford.

TO DECORATE her little house, "Mother" says that she need only to go a little way outside her front door to gather branches of Paracantha berries, "a red, thickly clumped bush, the fruit of which reminds one of the small thorn apple at home. On the dining table, I have arranged them in a pottery bowl, with copper candlesticks and tall, red candles."

However, of the desert she says, "Now, I dislike the unfair attitude of tourists who come to a new and unfamiliar locality, stay a day or two, then consider themselves equipped to describe what they have seen in an honest evaluation to the homefolks. So I shan't try to tell you what the desert is truly.

"I imagine its desolation grows on one after a while, but my first impression was just that—desolation.

Right now, in the winter season, everything is dry and burnt out—there is no color on the ground, only the blue of the sky, and the purple haze over the mountains. I wanted to keep my eyes up all the time. In the spring, the natives tell me, the desert comes alive with unbelievable color and beauty. The cacti develop lovely flowers, but now all seems dead.

"FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT, whose place, Taliesin West, is not far from Phoenix, refers to life on the desert as a 'spiritual cathartic', and he discusses desert architecture in understandable terms, I think, when he says: 'The Arizona desert is no place for the hard, box houses of the Middle West and East. Here all is sculptured by wind and water, patterned in color and texture; rocks and reptiles no less than cacti. A desert building should be nobly simple in outline as the region itself is sculptured'."

In closing, "Mother" added, "And now to get into my new squaw dress and boots. Everyone dresses in these cotton, full-skirted affairs trimmed with rickrack. The squaw boots are very comfortable, made of soft kid, and a semi-hard sole."

Ah, for summer and cotton dresses — with or without the squaw boots!

My love,
Patty.

Better Pastures Mean Money To Local Farms

Many of our permanent pastures are little more than exercise grounds during much of the year. Why?

There are several reasons for this neglect, which amounts to millions of dollars in production losses in Illinois each year, according to Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser.

One of the basic reasons is that many of us still have the idea that pastures need no soil treatment, or that pasturing builds up soil. We forget that meat and milk produced on a pasture remove a lot of plant food.

E. D. WALKER, University of Illinois soils man, says that when we take 50 bushels of corn from a field, we expect to put something back to replace the lost fertility. But 10,000 pounds of milk takes away more nitrogen than the corn, as much phosphorus, nearly twice as much potassium, and 24 times as much calcium.

Here, in brief, are the five steps in pasture improvement outlined by the Illinois college of agriculture. They are fully described and illustrated in a new circular authored by Walker and J. C. Hackleman of the agronomy department at the college.

1. Test and treat the soil.
2. Tear up the old sod.
3. Seed desirable legumes and grasses.
4. Control grazing.
5. Control weeds by clipping.

FARMERS IN all parts of the state have found that a good improvement program can easily double the forage yield of the average permanent pasture, as well as greatly increase the forage quality, Mees says.

You can get your copy of Circular 703, "Five Steps in Pasture Improvement," from your farm adviser or by writing to the College of Agriculture, Urbana. If your pastures are not up to par, Mees suggests keeping it on your "required reading" list this winter — and then following through in plan and practice for more profitable pastures.

Carl F. Mees — Adviser and Editor

Largest Capacity Combine

Two of the greatest problems facing farmers during the harvest season are labor shortages and rising production costs.

In today's age of mechanized operations on the farm, the nation's farmers are turning to the self-propelled combine principle to reduce these critical problems.

Recognizing the need for increased harvesting capacities, the Massey-Harris Co., Racine, Wis., has introduced three new self-propelled combines, including the largest capacity combine on wheels. Use of these machines helps the farmer get the most out of his crops and his land with less labor and at lower cost.

The largest capacity combine, produced by the firm which pioneered self-propelled combine design, is a full-width machine providing more separation areas and a greater degree of separation efficiency. A hydraulic speed selector and live axle drive makes possible complete speed adaptability to specific field and crop conditions and a safe, fast road speed of 14 miles an hour.

Other features include more convenience and comfort for the operator, larger separation areas and a hydraulic table lift control for cutting heights up to 33 inches, as well as skimming the ground.

Machines Help State Farmers Cut Costs

With an hour of farm labor now costing four times what it did 20 years ago, Illinois farmers have been rapidly shifting to more and larger machines to help whittle down labor requirements.

R. H. Wilcox, University of Illinois agricultural economist, says that, without these modern machines, labor costs would soon force the corn-belt farmer of today to cut production drastically.

How fast this change is taking place is illustrated in a recently completed study of costs on central Illinois farms in 1951, reported by Wilcox.

The cost of power and machinery per acre in crop production, Wilcox shows, is now nearly twice the cost of man labor. Fifteen years ago the two were about equal.

LAST YEAR it took less than 10½ hours of labor to produce, store and market an acre of corn. An acre of soybeans required 8 hours, and an acre of wheat 4 3/4 hours. It took only 2 1/3 hours to produce and market 100 pounds of pork, and 3 hours of labor to put 100 pounds of grain on feeder steers.

With the help of good yields and efficient farming practices, it cost 78 cents to produce a bushel of corn on these central Illinois farms in 1951. It cost $1.31 to produce a bushel of soybeans, and a bushel of wheat cost from $1.70 to $2.00, depending on type of soil where the wheat was grown.

The cost of producing 100 pounds of pork was $20, and it took $35 to put 100 pounds of fattening gain on feeder cattle in the feed lot.

THE COST report, Wilcox says, also offers some good pointers on operating machines efficiently.

For example, tractors of more than 21 drawbar horsepower that were used more than 500 hours in 1951 cost $1.08 an hour to operate. The cost per hour for those used less than 500 hours was $1.34.

The same principle applies to trucks. Three-quarter to one-ton trucks driven less than 5,000 miles cost an average of 15 cents a mile to operate, while those driven more than 5,000 miles cost only 9 cents.

A copy of the detailed cost report for central Illinois farms in 1951 is available without cost from the department of agricultural economics, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Prevent Coccidiosis In Feeder Calves

Three steps to prevent costly losses from coccidiosis in feeder calves were listed today by Dr. N. D. Levine of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine.

Here are the steps: (1) avoid overstocking feed lots and pastures. (2) use feed and water containers which are elevated and designed to prevent contamination and (3) clean the lots as often as possible.

Beef calves seldom have serious trouble with coccidiosis while they are on the range where they have plenty of room, Dr. Levine says. But feed lots and small pastures can become quickly contaminated, leading to severely infected cattle.

Symptoms of coccidiosis in calves include weakness, bloody diarrhea and loss of weight. In addition the calves will have a rough hair coat, dropping ears and sunken eyes.

Prompt diagnosis of coccidiosis is important, Dr. Levine says. Herd treatment by a veterinarian will protect the rest of the calves and may heal animals which are already showing symptoms.

Dr. Levine states that the cause of coccidiosis in cattle is a tiny parasite similar to the one that infects chickens. But he assures farmers that cattle and chickens can't get the disease from each other.

Start The New Year With Good Farm Records

Here's a prescription that can help avoid many a tax reporting headache when another year rolls around — a good farm record book.

It's only dreaming to think you can satisfy the tax collector every year with incomplete and inadequate records, says Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees.

An easy-to-keep farm record book that is entirely acceptable to the bureau of internal revenue is the Illinois farm record book, available at the Farm Bureau offices in Arlington Heights and Tinley Park.

Help at income tax time, however, is only one of the many reasons why the modern farmer depends on good farm records. In these days of high-cost farming it's next to impossible to manage an efficient and profitable farm business without adequate records.

The Illinois farm record book is also especially designed to help you make a careful study and analysis of your farm business.

Last year approximately 250 farmers in Cook county used this economical book in 1952. It is distributed at cost of printing and handling, which is 50 cents a copy.

With 607 pounds of butterfat and 13248 pounds of milk, testing 4.6%, to her credit, Winlare Emalcama Ty Vic, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Martin Loeber, Palatine, has completed a 338-day production test in official advanced registry.

She was milked 2 times daily and was 5 years 5 months of age when she began her testing period.

Her record averages approximately 18 quarts of milk daily for the period covered by her test.

Corn Is King On Local Farms

The annual farm report for Cook county from assessor John S. Clark shows that with 217,886 acres under cultivation Cook county leads in at least one farming category — truck gardening.

"Cook county is the leading truck garden crops producer in the state," Clark said. "Twenty-four thousand acres were devoted to truck gardening here, according to the 1952 report."

Statistics from 3,060 Cook county farms in 24 of the 30 townships outside Chicago, reveal that corn was the leader among 27 kinds of crops grown.

"CORN AND oats have always been the largest single crops grown in Cook county," Clark said. "The new crop census shows that 1,804 farms reported 57,635 acres of corn and 1,460 farms cultivated 38,195 acres of oats."

In 1951, corn and oats were high crops with 57,807 and 39,874 acres respectively. The 1951 report showed 222,260 acres of farmland in use on 3,201 farms. The slight drop this year, Clark attributed to farms being turned into residential or industrial building and being taken over by the forest preserves and the county highway department.

COUNTY FARMERS this year reported 11,141 apple trees on 910 farms, and 1,081 peach trees on 223 farms. Some 4,000 cattle and calves, later to be sold for beef, were put on grain feed and 5,118 non-market breeding cows were reported. Pasture land in use totaled 12,269 acres.

Clark pointed out that movie goers might also be glad to know that 228 acres of popcorn were grown during the year.

Corn, 57,635 acres; Oats, 38,195; Alfalfa, 14,523; Soy bean, 13,169; Timothy-clover, 11,059; Onions, 5,998; Wheat, 5,351; Sweet corn, 3,275; Tomatoes, 3,225

District 7 PMA Meeting Saturday At Buffalo Grove

A. L. McWILLIAMS

Robert Paddock, president, and Earl Kane, Jr., secretary, announced the scheduling of the annual meeting of District No. 7, to be held at Buffalo Grove parochial school Saturday, January 24, at 10:30 a. m.

There will be a nomination of district director and election of district officers. Luncheon and movies will be held at noon.

Speakers will be W. E. Winn, president, Richmond; A. L. McWilliams, general manager, and Harry Edwards, director of sales, both of Chicago.

Major trends in the dairy industry will be discussed. These have been analyzed by general manager McWilliams as (1) lowered milk production; (2) decrease in number of operating dairies; (3) changes in milk distribution, and (4) utilization of substitute materials for dairy products.

"Lowered milk production is directly traceable to farm labor shortages," said McWilliams, "high investment requirements deeded for entering the dairy farming business, long-hour, seven-day weeks, vigorous health department standards and relatively higher income from other farm products."

Farmers Mutual In Annual Meeting Saturday

The regular annual meeting of the members of the Cook county farmers mutual insurance company will be held Saturday, January 24, at the Masonic hall, 5418 Gale st., Chicago, 2:00 p. m.

The reports of the officers and attorneys of the company will be given and election of directors for the ensuing year will take place.

Prices received by farmers fell nearly four per cent from mid-September to mid-November, to average lower than in any month since November 1950, according to U. S. department of agriculture figures.

The U. S. D. A.'s bureau of agricultural economics reported that at the end of November farmers' prices averaged one per cent below parity — the first time they had fallen below parity since June 1950. A year earlier they were six per cent above parity.

Sponsors Short Course On Tree Care On Farms

Men who work with trees and others interested will have a chance to learn more about that line of work.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees reports that an arborists' short course will be sponsored by the University of Illinois at Robert Allerton Park near Monticello from Fberuary 11 to 28.

This is the first time that the University has offered such a short course in the care and culture of shade and ornamental trees, including disease and insect control, according to Mees.

Anyone in Cook county who has passed his 17th birthday and is interested in learning the fundamentals of shade tree care is invited to take part in the short course.

THE PROGRAM of study will be especially valuable to men already in the business of tree care who feel that they lack enough, up-to-date training. It will also be attractive to municipal government workers whose duties include the care of trees in public parks and along streets. Tree care is an active, outdoor type of work that can be enjoyable and profitable to young men who might be interested.

Experienced tree men from Illinois, Missouri and Wisconsin will give instruction in the practical phases of tree care during the three-weeks' course. Foresters, entomologists, plant pathologists and other specialists from the University of Illinois and the State Natural History Survey will cover such scientific and technical problems of shade tree care as tree selection, identification, growth and culture.

EACH ONE who enrolls in the short course will learn and practice, under expert teachers, tree climbing, pruning, felling and other outdoor work required of an arborist. Classroom work will cover all the other aspects of practical tree care.

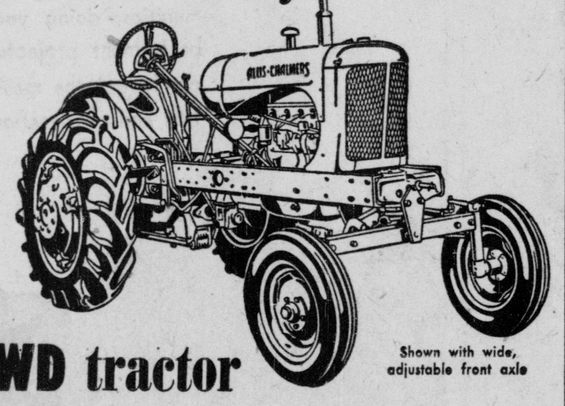

The 1,600 acres of Robert Allerton Park include a large mansion used for classrooms, lodging and dining service. In addition, formal gardens, extensive landscape shade tree plantings, ornamental shrubs and 1,400 acres of natural woodland offer exceptional opportunities for training arborists.

Victor Implement Farmer's Night At Libertyville January 30

Victor Implement company of Barrington and Libertyville has announced a special Farmer's Night of free movies and entertainment for next Friday, Jan. 30, at Libertyville high school gym. The gym is located on route 176 in Libertyville with all farmers of this area invited, including the former customers of Martin Jurs Implement company, predecessor to Victor Implement in Barrington. The show will start at 8 p.m.

WD tractor

Shown with wide, adjustable front axle

So many people know and want the WD Tractor that sometimes it takes a little waiting to get an order filled.

We're sorry when delay is necessary, but we're mighty proud to sell this kind of tractor . . . so much in demand by farmers who want the best that orders across the nation have always outrun the available supply.

Here are a few reasons:

POWER-SHIFT rear wheels moved in or out by the engine.

TWO-CLUTCH control with foot-operated master clutch plus oil-cushioned hand clutch. Works like a second engine on power take-off jobs.

TRACTION BOOSTER that automatically shifts extra weight to rear wheels for plowing and other heavy jobs.

THREE-BOTTOM pickup plow for big-tractor capacity with light-tractor fuel economy.

It may take a little time, but the sooner you order, the quicker you'll have a new WD. And you'll be glad you waited for the first choice in farm power. Ask any owner, or let us prove it by a demonstration on your farm.

MOST ADVANCED HYDRAULIC SYSTEM IN ANY TRACTOR

NEW FORD TRACTOR

Now, in the new Golden Jubilee Model, Ford Tractor engineers have carried a time-proved hydraulic system to a new high in speed of response, lifting power, dependability and wide usefulness.

This Live-Action hydraulic system gives almost instant action at all times when the tractor engine is running. It handles larger implements and heavier loads. And, with Hy-Trol, it acts even faster when desired. Also possible is an almost unlimited variety of remote cylinder* operations. In addition to all the time-proved advantages of the Ford Tractor's built-in hydraulic system, you get a choice of hydraulic speeds, quick hook-up, smooth operation of remote cylinders* and the ability to handle bigger loads.

The more you learn about the new Ford Tractor the more you will find that it can bring new ease and speed to your farming—new economy, too. Come in—look it over!

THE 7 DAY WEEKLY

Ever notice how this morning's daily goes "down the stairs" into the basement by noon?

Ever notice how your weekly stays "in the rack", on the table and by the chair over Sunday, in many homes 'till Thursday when the next edition comes out?

That's because your weekly newspaper is a
7 DAY WEEKLY

It serves the home, the family, the community seven days a week, not just a time killer for an all-too short two hours in the morning, or in the evening.

Religion is an important part of every week of every American, usually exemplified by church attendance. News of church activities, times of services, names of speakers are all of interest to local readers. That is the reason Paddock Publications EACH WEEK publishes news FREE OF CHARGE of 55 churches within its area of serving 21 communities.

Paddock Publications

Nine Phones For Service
CLearbrook 3-1520

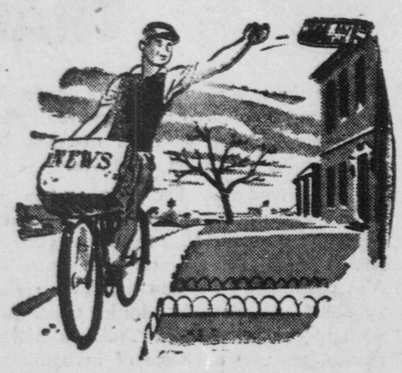

Monday is always a busy day for the 37 correspondents employed by Paddock Publications, 37 housewives collecting "locals" and other items about their neighbors, and getting them ready for the editors at the publication office. This type of news is rated most popular among our readers, and is an important part of Paddock Publications' seven-day-a-week program of serving 21 communities.

Community service has always been of utmost consideration in the editorial program of Paddock Publications, ever since H. C. Paddock established his home and business in Arlington Heights in 1896. He, his sons, and now his grandsons have extended that area to 21 communities, doing yeoman service in promoting betterment projects enabling fellow townspeople to get the most out of education, association and cooperation.

Wednesday is the big day at Paddock Publications, where more than 40 employees work extra hours to get the eight editions out on time each week. The employes work in Arlington Heights, but live in Palatine, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines and Bensenville, just five of the 21 communities served by your local newspaper. They have the same family interests of any of the 14,000 homes reached each week by Paddock Publications, the same problems, the same waiting for payday and weekly shopping.

More and more Paddock newspapers are being distributed Thursday. Some are sold at newsstands, some at drive-ins and grocery stores. Several hundred are delivered by carrier boys, while your local mailmen deliver more than half of the 14,000 copies printed each week. With news and advertising deadlines advanced, still more papers will be delivered earlier in the week in the future, all part of our job of serving 21 communities as thoroughly as possible.

What readers want is the prime goal of any newspaper, and Paddock Publications is no exception. With 6,500 persons buying our eight editions over the counter each week at ten cents per copy the editors feel they're selling papers to people who want 'em. Local features written by local persons about local subjects draw interest in all 21 communities served by Paddock Publications, keeping circulation and employment high with resultant benefit to local businessmen.

Advertising revenue is what foots the bill. News of special sales, new merchandise, the latest in fun and fashions are all offered local readers telling them what's going on in local stores. By presenting that advertising in attractive, eye-catching ways, housewives in the 14,000 local homes reached each week by Paddock Publications trade locally, keeping advertising money at home to further community churches, schools, shopping districts and friendly citizenship.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND (ELLIS TRUXELL)

One of the stories which so many returning vets relate concerns the inconstancy of their wives and sweethearts while they are overseas. It seems that, contrary to the old adage that absence makes the heart grow stronger, the exact opposite is true. Perhaps, in many cases, the adage "Out of sight, out of mind" would be far more apt.

Now that I am getting to be one of the older generation, I like to meditate about the constancy and devotion which women used to extend their husbands and sweethearts back in the days when I was a young blade. But another concept, born of living experience, keeps intruding into my thoughts. It is that perhaps the same situation has existed down through the ages. I guess that to keep the flames of love burning steadily, the lovers involved have to keep throwing fuel on the flames, and from close by.

AND THIS SEEMS to lead to that [illegible] that love is a [illegible] indeed, not the strong, persistent emotion it is cracked up to be. It seems many people fall in and out of love with the ease of ginea pigs. So maybe a new definition of love is needed.

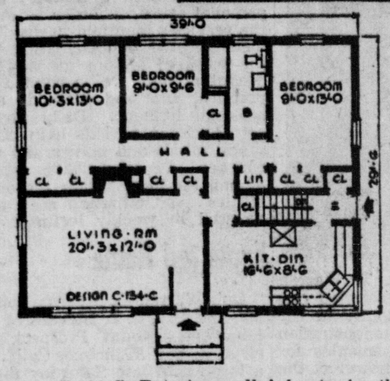

Perhaps love to many women is a means of obtaining economic stability and escaping the bad odor which still, but to a rapidly lessening degree, accompanies feminine bachelorhood. Perhaps love to many men is the satisfaction of a physical urge toward a particular female who is attractive and seductive.

As I write this, something within me rebels against such thoughts. Experience has taught me that there are many instances of great love, constant and loyal enough to transcend mere physical or economic circumstances. And I like to think this is generally true. It is an ideal that lifts man above mere animal mating.

Still, standard procedure today is to break up romances of which parents disapprove by substitution or long vacations, and economic and physical circumstances still control cupid's accuracy.

TAX FACTS

By George [illegible] Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

In view of the nationwide propaganda campaign about the flood of school children that is going to overflow the schools, a tabulation of enrollment figures in Illinois, grade by grade, compared to births, raises some questions that need to be answered.

First grade enrollment in 1935-36 was 132,352 compared to births in 1929 of 128,633. First grade enrollment in 1950-51 was 128,768 compared to births in 1944 of 142,005. What's happening to the children? Are they enrolling in private schools?

From 1935-36 through the school year 1943-44, first grade enrollments were greater than the births six years earlier. From 1944-45 through 1950-51, first grade enrollments ran far below births six years earlier, with the one exception of the school yea 1949-50. Why this changed trend? What is happening to the children?

Back in 1934-35, total elementary enrollment amounted to 1,020,689, including 19,812 in special classes and only 48,165 in kindergarten. In 1950-51, total elementary enrollment was 934,817, including 15,566 in special classes and 79,997 in kindergarten. Subtracting kindergarten and special classes, enrollment in grades one through eight was 952,712 in 1934-35, down to 839,254 in 1950-51 — down 113,458. Yet the total number of births in the eight year period reflected in 1934-35 enrollments was only 33,096 higher than the total births in the eight year period reflected in 1950-51 enrollments. What happened to the other 80,000 children

Of the 110,326 children enrolled in grade one in 1939-40, only 78,365 were left in grade eight in 1946-47, and only 56,369 were still in school in grade twelve (fourth year high school) in 1950-51. What happened to all these children along the school road?

There has been a tremendous increase in births in Illinois in recent years, reaching 200,581 in 1951 compared to a peak of 137,117 back in 1924. Certainly this adds up to increased school enrollments in coming years. Certainly, some school areas are overcrowded now. Nevertheless, the propaganda campaign designed to panic the people into writing blank checks for school purposes will prove to be a disservice to the school children, to say nothing of the taxpayers, if the result is a program of overbuilding and overspending. To prevent this, the educators themselves must come up with answers to questions raised by enrollment trends that appear to counteract increased birth rates, at least in part.

JUST DOGS

First Aid

Knowing how to give first aid to a dog may easily be the means of saving his life. It is most useful around the home while waiting for the veterinarian to arrive or if you must take the injured animal to the veterinarian it will enable you do so with the knowledge that you are doing the right thing at the right time. It is of invaluable help to the hunter when an accident afield demands immediate action.

In an ordinary wound where bleeding is not too severe a plain bandage or strip of cloth wrapped several thicknesses but not too tightly about the injured part will usually stop the bleeding.

Profuse bleeding from a leg wound indicates that an artery or vein has been severed, so a tourniquet must be applied.

Tie above the wound and twist with a stick acting as a lever until the bleeding stops. However, never leave a tourniquet on for more than 15 minutes at a time.

IN THE case of a broken leg, keep as straight as possible. If a bone has broken through the skin attach a stick by tying it above and below the break to prevent the sharp point or edge from cutting a blood vessel when the dog struggles or moves.

Nearly all dogs hurt in accidents suffer from shock, a condition recognizable from pale lips and gums. First aid in shock is to wrap the dog in a coat or blanket for warmth and see that he has rest and quiet.

Grey and white gums in a dog involved in a severe accident can also mean that he is bleeding internally from an organic injury.

Have an assistant if possible hold the dog with the front and hind legs stretched out, while you bandage the body with a long piece of cloth torn into strips. The wrapping will hold the organs somewhat immobile until a clot can form.

APPROACH ANY injured dog, even your own, slowly and with caution as any dog in pain may bite. An emergency muzzle can be improvised from a length of gauze bandage, a strip of cloth or even a necktie.

Above all do everything possible to keep the dog quiet until you can have the veterinarian make a positive examination of just what and how serious the injuries may be. And one last point — try to keep calm and collected yourself for it will go a long way towards that business mentioned earlier about "the right thing at the right time."

Obedience Trial

Folks around this area interested in obedience trained dogs will have their eyes fixed on Chicago this coming Sunday, January 25, when the North Shore dog training club will hold its 13th annual A. K. C. licensed obedience trial at Rainbo Arena, 4836 N. Clark st.

Some 155 dogs have been entered in the event with many of the dogs and owners coming from out of the state for the affair. Judges are coming from as far as Larchmont, N. Y., and Kirkwood, Mo., and from our own area Mr. Roland Horton of Oak Lawn, Illinois will act as the judge of the Open A class.

This all-breed obedience trial brings together every year some of the finest obedience trained dogs in this part of the country and results in some rather hard work before and during the trials both for the dog and handler as well.

Starting at 9 a. m. and lasting until 6 p. m. the trials will be of interest to young and old alike with something going on in one of the five rings throughout the day.

Dog Facts

Dogs have been dropped by civil air patrol parachutes in Colorado and Utah to sheepherders whose dogs had been killed by wolves. — Major J. W. Goldsmith, British dog judge, covered 11,000 miles in 25 days to attend dog shows in Bombay, Hongkong and Calcutta. — And speaking of travel brings to mind that on top of a 2400 foot mountain down near Rio De Janeiro there is a private kennel housing over a hundred pure-bred dogs of all various breeds.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Will you please explain the correct way to hold the fork?

A. The fork, prongs up, rests on the side of the first joint of the middle finger, and should be held in place by the tips of the thumb and the index finger. Curve the other two fingers lightly under the fork.

Q. How would a bride, who has no parents or living relatives, word the announcements of her wedding?

A. "Miss Mary Jane Jones and Mr. John Robert Smith have the honour of announcing their marriage, etc."

Q. Is it proper for two women, when introduced, to shake hands?

A. Usually they do not — but most certainly there is nothing improper about a sincere handshake between two women.

Q. If one has received a wedding invitation, and because of illness or absence, has not been able to send a wedding gift, is it all right to send this after the wedding?

A. Yes. And it would be nice, too, to send a short note, explaining the reason for the delay.

Q. Would it be all right to write a note of condolence to the parents of a friend who has died, even if you do not know the parents?

A. There is never anything improper about any act of thoughtfulness and sincerity.

Q. Is it proper to cut croquettes at the table with the knife?

A. No; the fork should be used for this.

Q. Is it necessary that the gowns worn by the bridesmaids at a wedding be identical?

A. This is neither necessary nor customary. The colors, however, should harmonize and the styles should be somewhat alike. The bridesmaids should be invited to the home of the bride-to-be many weeks before the wedding, so that they will have ample time to plan their attire.

Q. Is it correct, when making an introduction, to say, "Mrs. Johnson, meet Mrs. Gleer"?

A. Never! However, if you are introducing someone to another who is a very special friend, you may say, "Mrs. Johnson, I want you to meet Mrs. Gleer."

Q. Is it proper, as it was formerly, for a man calling on a girl to ask her permission to smoke?

A. Yes, if he happens to know she doesn't smoke. Otherwise, if he knows she smokes, an offer of a cigarette from his package will suffice.

Q. When a girl is going with a man ten years older than she is, does she refer to him as "boy friend" when introducing him to any of her friends?

A. The term "boy friend" is considered a vulgarism and should be avoided, no matter how old the man is. In fact, all you should use in the introduction is your friend's name, as, "Mary, this is Tom Blake." Or, if you want to be more formal, "Mary, may I present Mr. Tom Blake?"

Q. Is it necessary for a bride-elect to contribute to the down payment on the new home?

A. Most certainly, this is not "necessary." The home and support should really be the man's contribution to the marriage. However, if the woman has been working and expects to continue working, after marriage, there is nothing against her bolstering the family's finances. This matter is entirely dependent upon circumstances, not etiquette.

Q. Is it considered rude for a girl to make telephone calls to a man with whom she has been going regularly?

A. No; there is nothing wrong with any friendly telephone call.

Kitsmiller Polio Home Fund Reaches $14,000

Even the most optimistic workers on last week's house-to-house canvass for the Mary Kitsmiller fund, were amazed at the grand total collected from local householders — $10,400 in Park Ridge. These generous contributions swelled the total fund to over $14,000—in excess of the goal set to pay $7,000 for the $21,000 home being built for the polio patient and her family by Sun Builders, Inc.

Efficient Coal Use

As a result of better preparation of coal, coupled with significant improvements in boiler room techniques, 1.14 pounds of coal in electric power generation does the work 3 pounds did 30 years ago.

National Sales Up

The consolidated sales of National Tea Co. for the calendar year 1952 amounted to $405,222,426 as compared with $361,317,401 for the year 1951, an increase or 12:15%. This is the largest volume of sales in the company's history and the tenth consecutive year a new high has been reached.

Sales for the four weeks and three days ending December 31, 1952, amounted to $38,813,576 as compared with $30,559,190 for the four weeks and one day ending December 31, 1951, an increase of $8,254,386 or 27.01%.

The number of stores in operation increased from 624 at December 31, 1951 to 765 at December 31, 1952.

Adding CHARM to YOUR Home

STAIRWAY UNINTERESTING?

Don't allow the stairway to be just a means of getting from one floor level to another. Make it an important decorative asset from bottom to top. Plan it so that it carries the decorating scheme from the floor below to the floor above.

MAKE IT AN EYE-CATCHER

One simple way to do this is to place a row of potted plants all the way along the inner wall. Add a color surprise by choosing flower pots that contrast with the wall color. These plants need not be bloomers that require sun and care . . . choose greens with rich foliage that live indoors and like it.

In Korea

Pfc. Donald Pelletier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pelletier, 221 S. Evergreen ave., Arlington Hts., recently completed his ninth month in Korea with the 7th infantry division.

The 7th has fought continuously in Korea since its landing at Inchon in the fall of 1950. During its two years of combat in, the mountainous terrain the division has battled in every sector of the peninsula. Elements of the 7th were the only U. S. forces to reach the Yalu River.

Pelletier, who entered the army in September, 1951, is a rifleman in the 17th regiment's company L. He has been awarded the combat infantryman badge, UN service ribbon and the Korean service ribbon with one campaign star.

In California

Marine Sgt. Don Koelper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Koelper, Northbrook, who is stationed at the marine base at El Torro, Santa Ana, California, wrote home that he met Pvt. Harry Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, Wheeling, who arrived there recently and had a nice chat with him. They were friends before entering the service. Koelper recently passed his first year mark with the Marines.

In North Carolina

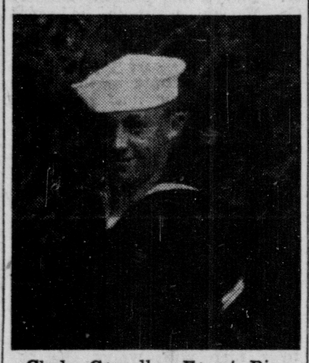

Marine captain A. T. Warren of Des Plaines, was selected one of the participants to fly in the spectacular aerial demonstration during inaugural ceremonies for President-elect Eisenhower at the nation's capital January 20.

Captain Warren, a pilot attached to the second marine air wing, manned a HRS troop-carrying helicopter, one of the 60 leatherneck aircraft to be featured in the aerial phase of the extensive military show in which nearly 20,000 members from all branches of the armed forces took part.

In addition to the aerial flyover, the Marine Corps was represented in the inaugural parade by a composite infantry battalion of Leathernecks, a company of women marines, and the 86-piece United States marine corps band.

Captain Warren's mother, Mrs. C. D. Warren resides in Fleming, Colorado.

In California

Clyde Coryell, Forest River, has been in the navy since early last fall and has been stationed at San Diego, California. Clyde spent 12 days at home with his family during the holidays. He would like very much to hear from his friends around Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines as well as his fellow workers at the Baxter Laboratories in Morton Grove. His address is: Clyde L. Coryell, 442-67-75, Co. 52-0793, U. S. N.-T. C., San Diego 33, Calif.

In Korea

Pfc. Martin E. Heinrich of Bensenville was chosen for the 25th infantry division's special honor guard for President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's visit to Seoul, Korea. Private First Class Heinrich, a squad leader, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Heinrich of Bensenville. In Korea since last July, he holds the combat infantryman badge.

In Florida

Bob Heiden of Arlington Hts. has been graduated from plane captains school at Pensacola, Florida, and has been transferred to another field for further duty. His address is Robert C. Heiden Jr., SA 445-64-23, CC (Div.) HTU-1, Ellyson Field, Pensacola, Florida.

In New Jersey

Walter A. Scharinghausen, seaman recruit, USCG, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Scharinghausen, 305 S. Louis st., Mt. Prospect, is scheduled to complete the 12-week course of recruit training at the coast guard center in Cape May, N. J. He is learning the basic duties encountered as a member of the nation's oldest sea-going force.

Before enlisting in the coast guard, Scharinghausen attended Arlington Heights high school.

The curriculum of a coast guard recruit is varied and extensive in both a military and personal sense, in order to meet the service's manifold needs. The men receive indoctrination on the ways of service life and its discipline and are instructed in practical first aid methods and personal hygiene. Daily physical education periods help build sound minds and bodies and encourage a competitive spirit among the men. Their responsibilities as citizens are also stressed in weekly lectures.

Expected Home

Cpl. Warren L. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stevens of 809 Ioka ave., Mount Prospect, arrived in San Francisco, Calif., on a troop ship late Saturday night.

From there he will spend a few days at Camp Carson, Colo. He is expected in Chicago the latter part of this week.

Cpl. Stevens is married to the former Beverly Grant of Arlington Heights. He has been with the 62nd engineering topography division and was in Korea since September, 1951.

Jewel Sales Up

Jewel Tea Co., Inc., retail sales for the five weeks ended January 3, 1953 were $22,961,771 compared to $17,066,385 for four weeks ended December 29, 1951. On a weekly basis this represents an increase of 7.6% over the prior year.

Accumulated sales for the 53 week fiscal year ended January 3, 1953 totaled $226,291,961, an increase of $17,047,932 or 8.1% over sales for the 52 week fiscal year ended December 29, 1951.
